Governor Threatens Budget Boost Veto

HURLS HOT REPLY AT SOLONS

Richardson Says Opponents Are "Reactionary Spendthrifts"

EXPECT FINAL VOTE DURING NEXT WEEK

Anti-Administration Men Would Add $59,000,000 To Measure

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—Increases in the administration economy budget voted by "reactionary spendthrifts" in the assembly will be vetoed and the total kept within the $79,000,000 limit, according to a statement by Governor Richardson today.

With the probability of only a bare majority of the members being present the assembly was expected to consider only minor uncontested bills at a short session today.

The administration budget and the muddled situation which has arisen concerning it was not mentioned. Further consideration of the document has gone over until Monday morning, when the struggle which has lasted for two weeks will be resumed.

The budget still seems far from approval, although administration leaders are predicting that it will be given the lower house o. k. by Wednesday. They were, however, anticipating the same thing last week, asserting that the opposition was collapsing and almost immediate adoption of the document's figures was at hand.

The strength of either side is now problematical. No real test vote has come for three days and the line-up may have been considerably altered.

Late yesterday, with only one dissenting vote, the assembly adopted the budget amendment recommended by the attorney general, supposed to clarify the instrument with regard to the recurring appropriations.

Anti-administration forces, admitted that the amendments went a long way toward clearing up the situation, but did not go far enough. Because of this opinion, the opposition has prepared thirty-two amendments placing all the recurring items in the budget total. This would increase the $79,739,000 economy budget figure by some $59,000,000 additional.

ROBT. M'FADDEN PIONEER, IS NEAR DEATH

Critically ill, Robert McFadden, pioneer of this city, was brought from Los Angeles yesterday and is at the home of his son, Arthur J. McFadden, North Main street. His physicians state that it is not likely that Mr. McFadden can live more than a few days.

Mr. McFadden is now 78 years of age. For months he has been suffering from the ill effects of an attack of influenza. A part of the time he was in a sanitarium. For some time he has been at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anna Schwesinger, in Los Angeles. Mr. McFadden's condition is such that visitors are not admitted to his bedside.

MARATHON DANCING MARK BROKEN AGAIN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 28.—Albert Kish passed the world's record for non-stop dancing at 4 a. m. today when he had danced 112 hours, with only three minutes out for rest every seven hours.

He had danced 116 hours at 8 a. m. and expects to dance until midnight tonight.

Fiance In Court as Slayer On Date Set Aside for Marriage

MISS FRANCES BUHL

Brooklyn beauty, who, instead of marching down the aisle of a church on the day set for her wedding, was forced to appear in court in an effort to assist her fiance, held on a charge of murdering a soldier at Miller Field, Staten Island. First Sergeant Claude Foster is the accused man. Self defense is to be his plea to the murder charge.

TAX COLLECTOR PREPARES FOR FINAL RUSH

With approximately $1,850,000 due on the second installment of taxes at the close of the period for paying the first installment, J. C. Lamb, tax collector, and his office deputies today were preparing for the final rush, Monday, of those eager to pay before the "deadline," 5 p. m. that day.

Lamb predicted today that by the time all payments are credited the delinquency will not be in excess of five per cent.

He pointed to this probability as material evidence of the prosperity of Orange county property owners.

While stating that he expected a big rush on the final day, he reiterated a warning issued a few days ago, advising property owners to be sure and bring their tax bills with them, and in the case of new owners, that legal descriptions be procured to avoid loss of time by the office force in locating property.

At the same time he urged precaution in the signing of checks by persons who remit by mail. He declared that care should be exercised in making out the amount of the check and attaching the signature. He asserted that many persons in writing checks write the number of the tax bill instead of the amount of the tax, and all too frequently sign their checks according to the initials on the taxbill. He pointed out that the signature should be the same as that left at the bank for identification. Checks made out otherwise are returned to the tax collector, causing confusion in the office and a large amount of unnecessary work.

In pointing out the necessity for presentation of tax bills or legal descriptions, Lamb said that house numbers are not sufficient identification for city property that has changed ownership since the date of the assessment. Legal descriptions will greatly assist the collectors in locating the piece of property on which it is desired to pay taxes.

WHITE WOMAN KILLS SELF OVER JAPANESE

LOS ANGELES, April 28.—The tangled romance of a yellow man and a white woman found a tragic end last night in the suicide of Mrs. E. Malls, 40.

Before she turned on the gas she left note to G. Yamazaki, Japanese, which read: "Please tell Watsushino I think he is the best man in the world. I hope he will get a nice Japanese wife."

U. S. MAY DECLARE RUM RUNNERS REBELS

IDENTITY OF PRISONERS IN DOUBT

Ask L. A. Authorities to Clear Up Confusion in 'Hammer Case'

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The state department today acted to clear up the confusion concerning the identity of the two women held in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, one of whom is suspected of being Mrs. Clara Phillips, hunted California slayer.

The department asked the governor of California to send at once the identification papers of Mrs. Phillips, so that it can be determined whether Mrs. R. M. Young or Mrs. Jesse Carson is the woman wanted.

LOS ANGELES, April 28.—Telegrams and cablegrams found in the bag of Mrs. R. M. Young, under arrest at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, practically identify her as Clara Phillips, fugitive hammer murderess, according to reports received by Sheriff Traeger.

Telegrams from "Jackson, Tampico," were found. Mrs. Phillips' sister, Mrs. Etta Mae Jackson, recently arrived here and moved to Tampico. These telegrams were requests for money and the replies said money was being sent. Mrs. Jackson was very close to her sister during the latter's trial here and often visited her in jail. After Mrs. Phillips' escape, she was traced to Tampico, but she did not tarry there long.

ARMED SKELETON IS UNEARTHED IN PARK

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, April 28.—The mystery of the armed skeleton of a middle-aged man, found in a shallow grave in Griffith Park with a .32 caliber pistol at its side, was being investigated by detectives today.

Police believe that the man, who apparently has been dead six months or a year, was a bandit, killed in a shooting fray with police and hastily buried in the park by comrades. It was recalled that there was an epidemic of holdups and shootings in the Griffith park district last year.

'BANDIT QUEENS' SENT TO PRISON

Considerable interest was evinced here today when it was learned that Delpha Ament and Martha Beckman, "bandit queens," alleged to have been instrumental in the hold-up of McKinley May, Santa Ana automobile man, near Whittier several months ago, were sentenced to from one to ten years at San Quentin by Judge Shenk of Superior Court in Los Angeles after pleading guilty to a charge of highway robbery.

Both girls fainted when sentence was pronounced. They were carried to Judge Shenk's chambers, where they were revived. They were hysterical when taken back to their cell and the court granted them a ten-day stay of execution.

The young women were charged with a long series of daring robberies and hold-ups here before and after Christmas. They operated in company with four youths, two of whom have been sentenced. For several weeks the two girls and their male companions operated in a stolen machine, holding up motorists, pedestrians and stores. The two girls generally covered the victims with revolvers while their companions did the robbing.

Call U. S. Judge In L. A. To Aid In Texas Oil Fraud Case

LOS ANGELES, April 28.—Federal Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe will leave for Fort Worth Texas early next week, he announced today, to assist in conducting the special court sessions called to try the ninety-two oil promoters charged with using the mails to defraud investors out of approximately $7,000,000.

That the government intends to make short work of the trials is indicated by the fact that many outside federal judges have been called to participate in the hearings.

Southern California "wild cat" speculators are said by federal officials to have been swindled out of more than $200,000 by the oil schemes of the indicted Texas promoters.

FREE STATE CABINET IN PEACE MEET

Ministers Expected to Reject De Valera's Latest Plan to Suspend Fighting.

DUBLIN, April 28.—A hasty conference of Free State cabinet members was called today at the Mansion House to form the government's reply to the De Valera peace move.

Indications were strong that it would be rejected. The plan that has been transmitted from De Valera does not mention a surrender of arms, which the government here has always insisted must be the first basis of peace.

Minister of Home Affairs Kevin O'Higgins is known to favor a demand for complete surrender of the irregular forces. He is the one who will write the reply and it probably will be sent before night.

De Valera's plan proposes suspension of hostilities on Monday.

HALT TALK OF PARTY SPLIT OVER COURT

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—A threatened split of the Republican party over President Harding's world court issue ostensibly has been averted today.

President Harding, so far as appearances went, has either silenced or won over the "regular Republicans" who had manifested either uneasiness or hostility. The irreconcilables like Borah and La Follette alone are standing out against him.

This situation was brought about when the "uneasy" group declined the president's challenge to risk a party split now by contesting the court issue. That challenge which he flung at them in his New York speech Tuesday, was definitely declined last night by Senator Watson, spokesman for the group in a speech in Pittsburgh.

Watson said in effect that there would be no party split, for discord, nothing but harmony within the party ranks.

At the same time, Secretary of State Hughes addressing the American Society of International Law, virtually repeated the president's New York speech, by saying that membership in the court was not a step toward membership in the League; that there would be no entanglement; and that this government was set against joining the League.

POLICEMAN PROTESTS BOOTLEGGER'S VICTIM

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—An accommodating policeman saved someone from a fine stingling, it was learned today.

He was the "cop" who seized 16,000 quarts of fine Scotch whiskey, which "had just arrived from Canada," according to preliminary indications. But when prohibition agents opened a few bottles, all marked with high grade Scotch labels they found it was moonshine of the rankest type.

BOOTLEGGER GANGS FACE HOT FIGHT

Full Military and Naval Strength of Nation May Be Called On

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Bootlegging and rum running may shortly be declared to constitute an "insurrection" against the United States government and bootleggers and smugglers be classed as rebels against federal authority, it was learned here today.

Such a step would permit the president to throw into action against violators of the prohibition law the entire military strength of this government. It would, in effect, constitute a declaration of martial law against such violators.

Use of naval vessels in the government's war on rum smuggling probably will be held legal by the department of justice, a high official informed the United Press today.

Such an opinion from the department would release the navy for a finish campaign intended to sweep rum runners from the coastal waters of the United States and cut off one of the chief sources of supply for bootleggers in this country.

President Harding was reported today as determined to go to any length in his constitutional rights to put an end to liquor law violations.

Use of force of marines or regular men to co-operate with prohibition enforcement agents in turning back from the coasts and borders of the United States, liquor smugglers was understood to be in contemplation. This could done, it was believed, even if in the President's opinion other agencies of the government were not able to cope with the situation.

Legal experts of the department of justice were concentrating today to determine the exact limits of the government's authority in this direction.

At the same time, Secretary of the Navy Daniels set at rest reports that the navy was opposed to use of its vessels as men in combating rum smuggling. While he did not deny that there was a difference of opinion in the navy about the question, Denby said he was heartily in favor of using naval ships.

HUGE CARGO OF RUM TAKEN IN S.F. RAID

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—The motor boat Herron was seized in the Golden Gate and brought in port at 2 a. m. today, loaded to the rails with Scotch whisky said to have been shipped from Canada. The coast guard patrol boat Tulare made the seizure.

Two men giving the names of Gottfried Benson and Mechlon Olafson, both of San Francisco, were aboard the boat and were placed under arrest.

The alleged rum runner was captured in dramatic fashion. Captain August Anderson, of the Tulare, reported that a few minutes before 2 a. m. he sighted a small motor boat heading from Sausalito out through the Golden Gate. Suspecting smugglers, he ordered lights out on the revenue cutter and hove to in the shadow of the cliffs.

In a short time he sighted the outlines of the Herron, with its lights out, speeding in through the Golden Gate. The Tulare gave chase and soon blocked the way.

"What are you doing?" shouted Captain Anderson.

"You know what we are doing," came the answer.

The Tulare was then halted alongside the Herron, which had been forced to stop to avoid collision and the patrol crew boarded her.

The smaller boat, first seen heading from Sausalito towards the open sea and which first aroused suspicion, escaped.

ADMIRAL EBERLE TO QUIT PACIFIC FLEET

SAN PEDRO, April 28.—Admiral E. W. Eberle will be transferred from the Pacific fleet to Washington to the post of chief of naval operations on June 30, according to an authoritative report current in naval circles here today. His present post as commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet will be taken by Admiral Samuel S. Robinson, it is said.

BEACH BOY SURPRISE IN MEET

Lovejoy Runs Spectacular Race in First Event Of Big Event

LOCAL BOY GIVES WAY TO OPPONENTS

San Fernando Speed Artist Takes 100-Yard Dash In 10 1-5 Seconds

The flower of the Southland's youth, primed for the athletic classic of the season, "dug in" at the Santa Ana high school field this afternoon for the annual Southern California Interscholastic Track and Field meet.

When the half-milers, set for the gruelling two laps around the historic Poly oval, were called to their marks at 1:30 o'clock by Starter Bob Weaver, the local grandstand was packed and the crowd still was pouring to the field from every side. It was the first time that the famed "All-Southern" had been held in Orange county and every indication was that the vast throng moving toward the local high school field was to be the largest ever to attend an athletic contest here.

Although Coach Ray Walker's Huntington Beach high school aggregation, last year's Southern California and state champions, and Bill Page's crack Hollywood team, winner of the city league meet, were expected to wage a battle royal for the 1923 title, other strong teams, including Pasadena, Manual Arts and Lincoln, were expected to be close behind with an outside chance for victory.

Breaks Half Mile Mark. A new Southern California Interscholastic half-mile mark was set up at Poly field this afternoon in the first event of the annual "All Southern."

Lovejoy, a Long Beach "dark horse," came to the front on the back straightaway of the second lap, raced to the front and finished first in 2:01 4.5, a scant yard ahead of Hansen of Manual Arts high school, Los Angeles.

Bob Vawter, Santa Ana's crack distance runner, led for the first part of the race but the pace was too killing and he was beaten out by Clum, Hollywood, finished third; Barr, Compton, fourth, and Ulrich, El Monte, fifth. Hershel Smith of San Fernando, off to a beautiful start in the 100 yard dash, broke the tape first, although a blanket would have covered the field. His time was 10:1.5.

Woodward, the dusky Jefferson boy, finished second. He gained steadily on Smith and would have made it a tie in a couple more strides. Clein of Venice was third, Pollock of Pasadena, was fourth and Hurlic, Pasadena, was fifth. Smith's time was one-fifth second slower than Charlie Paddock's "All Southern" record.

Ralph Nichols, the curly headed Huntington Beach boy, ran true to form in the 120 yard hurdles when he finished two yards ahead of the field in the speed time of 15:5-10 seconds, shattering the state high school record. Charlie Bickmore, his teammate, was second, putting Huntington Beach in front in the point column. Reynolds, Los Angeles high school, finished third; Shaver, Covina, fourth, and Haggart, Inglewood, fifth.

TRUCK OWNERS HOLD MEET AT FULLERTON

Fifty men and women were present last night at the meeting of the Truck Owners' association of Southern California, held at the Fullerton clubrooms, Fullerton, according to reports made today by local members.

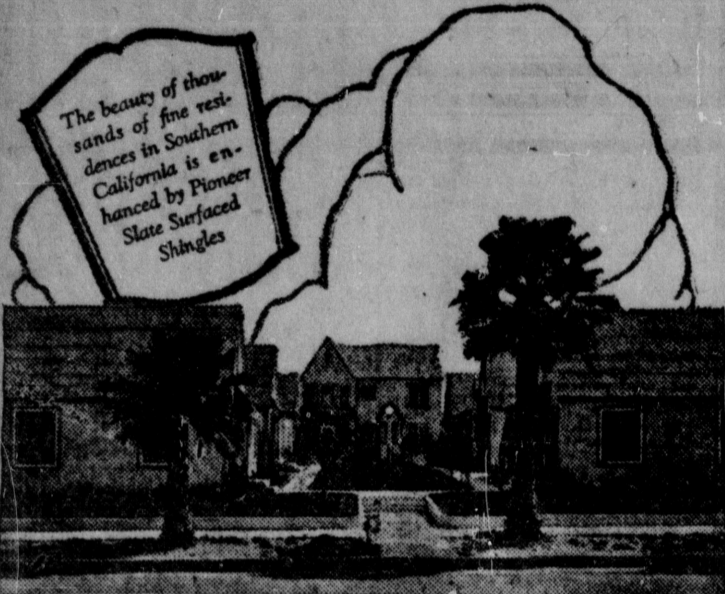

John T. Houser, Los Angeles, representing trucking interests at the state capital, discussed points in the motor regulation bills now pending in the legislature. He pointed out the good and bad features of some of the proposals.

A. F. Nelson, district attorney of Orange county, told the truckmen that he had received every operation possible from the way of controlling truck traffic.

Vocal solos and recitations were featured on the program. A dinner preceded the meeting.

SPOONING HELD TO BE O. K. BY COLLEGIAN

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—Give 'em the moonlight, the bench for two and other favorable conditions, and then go and mind your own business.

The answer to the question as to whether young girls do or should spoon, which recently created much interest and comment, is summed up thus by Miss Delphine Davenport, retiring president of the Women's Self-Governing association of Washington university.

Spooning, according to Miss Davenport, is youth's inalienable right, and it is as irresistible in this day of 1923 as it was in the Garden of Eden. The speaker says she thinks her version is the consensus of opinion among the co-eds of the school.

"Of course, most girls spoon," she said, "and, of course, they like it. I hate the word 'spoon' and wouldn't use it if I knew any other to take its place. But you take a moonlight night and other favorable conditions and the most strait-laced girl in the world is apt to indulge, within reasonable limits. Furthermore, most girls nowadays make no bones about it."

Miss Davenport was discussing the recent announcement by the bureau of social hygiene, founded by John D. Rockefeller, which recently sent questionnaires to 1000 married women and learned that 275 of them had spooned before marriage with others than their fiancés, 203 with fiancés only and 389 never spooned at all.

She believes in co-education as raising companionship between boys and girls to a higher plane.

"College girls are just like other girls in this respect, as they are in others," she continued. "Only I do think that co-education makes for companionship between the girl and boy students on a different plane. It's the girls who go to the women's colleges who lose their heads over men and are ready to sneak out to go riding with the messenger or delivery boy. At a mixed college the girls are thrown with men students all the time and enjoy a different sort of companionship."

BEACH TEACHERS IN PICNIC AT EL MODENA

Teachers of the Luther Burbank school, William F. Huff, principal, Long Beach, spent an enjoyable afternoon yesterday at the Hewes ranch at El Modena, where the annual school picnic was held at the invitation of D. Eymann Huff.

The teachers prepared their own dinner, seventy or eighty guests gathered around the stove and picnic tables in the park. Upon completion of the dinner numerous games were staged by the visitors. In the evening the spacious parlors of the ranch house were thrown open to the Beach city teachers. Musical numbers featured the evening's program.

Last spring Miss Margaret Waite and William F. Huff entertained the principals and supervisors of the elementary schools on a similar excursion and all those present declared they had a most enjoyable day.

In carrying out plans for giving the close-hub business district better fire protection, Walter Wray, superintendent of the water department, today was completing arrangements for the installation of a new hydrant on the east side of North Broadway opposite the east end of Hickey street. The new hydrant is of the type offers better service for the pump engine of the fire department. It is located on a six-inch water main, making more water available than was available at the hydrant on the corner of Hickey street and Broadway. The latter was served by a four-inch main. The small hydrant is to be removed and a valve placed on Hickey. A new valve also is to be installed at the corner of Sixth street and Broadway.

The installation of valves will be made tomorrow, and property owners in the square bounded by Sixth and Main streets, and Washington and Van Ness avenues were being notified today by Wray that water service would be shut off at 2 p. m. for an hour or more.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Tex.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have to crawl on my hands and knees in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better back since, and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends; as it has certainly given me great relief."—Mrs. C. B. ROBINSON, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Texas.

The Vegetable Compound is a gentle medicine for women. It is reliable in the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Y. W. C. A. MEET HERE SEEN AS RESULTFUL

Because the junior college is in a class all by itself and because the junior college Y. W. C. A. is not just like any other student association in its peculiar needs and policies, the first Southern California junior college Y. W. C. A. conference which closed here last night will have far reaching effects, those who took part in it were saying today.

This policy-forming, problem-solving conference, the first of its kind, was attended by representatives from Riverside, Fullerton and Chaffee union junior colleges.

Under the leadership of Miss Alice Hoyt, field student secretary for the Y. W. C. A., yesterday afternoon's discussions brought out many points as to the place of the association in the college life, the extent of the association work and the underlying principles.

Broad Vision Stressed
Self-development and social service, a broad vision of life, its social and religious problems, a sane outlook on international affairs and national policies as well as a definite contribution to the welfare of the community were some of the principles of the association brought out by the girls in their conference.

More than ninety Y. W. C. A. members sat at dinner at 6:30 o'clock at the First Congregational church. The local girls had as their guests Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mrs. Alex Brownridge, Miss Elizabeth Phillips and Mrs. J. A. Cranston.

A fine spirit of fellowship pervaded the dining room and an inspiring group of talks followed the dinner. Miss Edith Plavan, president of the local association, called upon the presidents of the visiting college associations, each of whom congratulated Santa Ana for the erection of the new Y. W. C. A. hut here.

Talks On Missions
Miss Edith Sanderson, traveling secretary for the World's Student Volunteer Movement, gave a talk which completely changed the views of many on the life and work in the foreign missionary field.

Miss Sanderson will leave in Turkey and talked of the work to be done abroad.

Miss Hoyt closed the conference with a stirring talk on the needs of young women of today and upon the tremendous breadth of the field work open to the Y. W. C. A., showing that the real principles of fine living were the fundamental principles of an association of women which reaches around the world and into its farthest corners.

Members of the local cabinet are being congratulated upon the excellence of their management of the conference, from registration on through to the dinner last night.

Torosa Rebekah

Fully 200 members of Torosa Rebekah lodge with some forty members of Lois Rebekah lodge of Anaheim, gathered at Odd Fellows hall Wednesday night to see the degree staff of the Anaheim lodge confer the initiatory degree upon a class of candidates.

The work was beautifully exemplified by the visitors, each of whom was letter-perfect in all ritualistic work. Clusters of sweet peas and ferns were bestowed upon the members of the staff by the hostess lodge.

Many interesting talks were given, among them being one on "Odd Fellowship" by Henry Mang of Anaheim, district chief patriarch. Mrs. Fannie M. Lacy, trustee of the Orphans' home at Gilroy and recently returned from a business trip to that city, told of the present situation at the home and the installing of a new matron following the death of the previous one.

Mrs. Mary E. Palmer of Orange, soon to retire as district deputy, spoke of the pleasures of her year's work and like other speakers, complimented the visiting degree staff highly upon their creditable performance.

Members and guests were then invited to the banquet room where a committee supervised by Mrs. Mary Cooper, served sandwiches, waters and coffee.

It was announced that the practice night for the lodge, scheduled for Tuesday night, May 1 at the hall, would be postponed.

FORD PURCHASE PLAN CALLED THRIFT AID

"Our decision to co-operate in the Ford weekly purchase plan is simply in line with our general policy to extend every possible service to the citizens of this community," Alex Brownridge, cashier of The Farmers and Merchants' Savings Bank of Santa Ana, said today relative to the announcement.

"The plan of having prospective buyers deposit weekly $5 or more is an excellent means of promoting thrift, the thing most essential to financial success and the attainment of ambitions," Brownridge continued.

"For several years now, banks generally have been conducting campaigns urging people to open Christmas savings accounts and vacation savings accounts and thousands of persons have done so, in many cases they began with small amounts the first year, but the second year their goal was higher until these savings have mounted into surprising figures."

"The automobile has become a necessity to modern times. It is essential to successful business, and it is unequalled as a means of providing pleasure for the family."

"The effect of the plan is most wholesome. It is certain to promote a new feeling toward the automobile and will tend to create a greater regard for automobile ownership."

"So why not save to own an automobile, just as you do for a vacation or for Christmas? They are all pleasure-giving adventures that cost little or no effort."

"PISTOLETTE VICTIM" JAILED FOR 20 DAYS

Rozales, despite the wound, fought strenuously until officers arrived and placed him under arrest.

AMNESIA GIRL AND HUSBAND ARE UNITED

The mystery which had surrounded the appearance at police headquarters here of June Georgantos, pretty Los Angeles amnesia victim, was cleared away today, as she had returned to her home at Ocean Park, in company of her husband, who was found late last night.

Georgantos was located by telephone, by a newspaper man, to the home of her husband, who was found late last night. "I wanted some money, and he refused it to me," she had told the newspaper man. "So I went to Los Angeles looking for work. I couldn't find work and I got tired. I guess I came to Santa Ana, although I don't remember about it."

whom Mrs. Georgantos had given his name.

"She disappeared while I was at work last Wednesday," he said. "I've been searching for her everywhere. I'm glad she's safe and I'll start immediately to see her."

And the man's voice gave evidence of the worry which he felt, as he hung up the receiver in haste. A few hours later he arrived at the county hospital, where June had been confined since her appearance here.

After conversation with her, hospital authorities announced that she might be discharged, and she returned to Ocean Park with her husband.

There had been some minor domestic trouble, the couple hinted, but in the re-union, all was forgotten.

"I wanted some money, and he refused it to me," she had told the newspaper man. "So I went to Los Angeles looking for work. I couldn't find work and I got tired. I guess I came to Santa Ana, although I don't remember about it."

SET TESTS FOR POSTMASTER JOB HERE

An examination for postmaster of Santa Ana has been called by the United States Civil Service commission, with an order that all applications for appointment must be on file in Washington, D. C., not later than May 22.

The term of Postmaster C. D. Overshiner, now in charge of the office, will end August 15, this year. The examination now called may result in the selection of an acting postmaster, who will be made permanent postmaster when congress is again in session so that postmaster appointments can be confirmed.

No Written Tests
According to the notice received by L. F. Harvey, local secretary of the Civil Service commission, who has received application blanks for distribution to applicants, there is to be no written examination, but an extensive inquiry is to be conducted by the commission relative to each of the applicants.

The inquiry will be largely confined to the applicant's education, training, business experience and fitness for the position.

The order states that no examination shall be given to anyone more than 65 years of age and to no one who has resided within the jurisdiction of the postoffice for less than two years.

Two years ago, T. E. Stephenson was recommended by the Republican County Central committee to Congressman Phil D. Swing for appointment.

Has Committee Backing
The matter has not come before the central committee elected last

August, but it is understood that Stephenson has the solid backing of all local committees.

Some months ago Congressman Swing received an application for appointment to the position from Charles E. Dixon, a rural carrier for the Fullerton post office. Dixon lives at 1253 West Fourth street, Santa Ana.

Under the procedure now used in the selection of postmasters, the Civil Service commission will make up a list of three eligibles. From these three Congressman Swing will make a recommendation of one to the Post Office department for appointment.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 28.—Correspondents here have high-ranking personages to chauffeur them about in tin Lizzies. One reporter has a full-fledged general who pilots one of Henry's name-sakes for him whenever he wants to make a trip. Another flivver is driven by a count of aristocratic lineage. They are down-and-out Russian refugees.

Wm. Jennings Bryan's Weekly Bible Talk

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN
(I Samuel 12:1-5, 20-25)

In Samuel, judge and prophet, we have one of the most beautiful characters in the Old Testament; and in our brief review of his life this morning, we shall consider three great lessons that his life holds for twentieth-century men and women everywhere.

For Samuel is one of the immortals; his career a shining beacon to all who would walk uprightly and do the will of God.

First, let us consider the power of a mother's prayer.

Hannah, the mother of Samuel, was a devout woman, one of the two wives of Elkanah. She longed for a man-child that she might consecrate him to the service of Jehovah, but she was childless and advanced in years.

The other wife, Peninnah, had children and was unkind enough to reproach Hannah, which made the latter's affliction even more bitter.

At the risk of introducing what may seem to some a bit of humor, I venture to call attention to the words used by Hannah's husband in his awkward attempt to comfort her. Noticing that she was weeping, and knowing the cause, he asked:

"Why is thy heart grieved? Am I not better to thee than ten sons?"

Mother and Son

The best of husbands can hardly hope to entirely take the place of a son. A mother's heart is large enough to love both husband and child, but it is through the child that she most influences the ages, and the suffering through which she passes to win the honor of maternity gives her an indelible title to her offspring.

She invests her life in her children and where her treasure is, there is her heart also.

Divorces between husband and wife are, unfortunately, more than occasional, but a mother is rarely divorced from her son. He may be heartless, but she forgives; he may desert her, but she hopes for his return—hopes and prays, and her prayers are often answered.

Hannah had a double interest in bringing into the world a son. With a mother's love there was entwined a desire to have one of her own flesh and blood brought up in God's service.

one who has merely absorbed from society—how insignificant. I repeat—in comparison with these monuments of flesh and blood, left by obscure heroines whose graves are forgotten!

There is no influence so lasting as that which passes from one heart to another, running like an electric current through the endless chain of the race.

Serving the Lord Early

The second lesson I shall draw from Samuel's life is to be found in his early entrance on the Lord's work.

He went as a child into the house of Eli, the priest, who was growing old, and there ministered unto the Lord. One night when he was asleep the Lord called him, and he answered the Lord's voice, saying, "Here am I."

Eli said, "I called not; lie down again."

A second time the voice awakened Samuel and the second time he appeared before Eli, only to be sent back to bed.

A third time Samuel was summoned and then Eli, perceiving that it was the Lord's voice that had awakened the child, said:

"Go, lie down; and it shall be if he call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak, Lord; for thy servant heareth."

When the fourth call came, Samuel answered as he had been advised and the Lord revealed to Samuel the judgment that He had recorded against Eli, and this judgment Samuel made known to the priest when the latter demanded to know what the Lord had communicated to him.

From that day Samuel grew stronger in the Lord's service and became one of the greatest of the prophets of Israel.

A Wicked Excuse

It is not uncommon for grown people to excuse the sins of youth with the remark that "young men must sow their wild oats." Samuel's life is a conclusive answer to this false philosophy.

There is no reason why any young man should pass through a period of transgressions before he settles down to serious and sober work. The experience of the prodigal son is not a necessary introduction to a successful life, neither is the joy of repentance a sufficient recompense for the sorrows of wayward years.

Every Sin Leaves a Scar

Every sin leaves a scar. The recollection of them haunts the memory and causes distress even when repentance has brought a sense of forgiveness. Some sins run in the blood and curse children before they are born. In thousands of cases the drunkenness and immorality of parents have closed the door of hope on little children before their eyes have opened to the light of day.

Nothing but religion can give one strength to resist the temptations that make the days of youth the critical days in life. Happy is the child who early hears the call of the Father and, hearing, obeys.

Our text takes up the career of Samuel when he was about ready to surrender his office of ruler to his people to Saul, their first king. He had held the most exalted position known to his time.

The prophet in Israel was greater than the king; it was his business to admonish and to rebuke the ruler upon his throne, and the great prophets in Israel lived up to this high duty. It was also the prophet's duty to advise the people and in this, too, Samuel was faithful to his trust.

Samuel was an example to all in authority and that example was never more needed than now and never more valuable than in our own beloved land.

"And now, behold, the king walketh before you: and I am old and grayheaded; and, behold, my sons are with you: and I have walked before you from my childhood unto this day."

"Behold, here I am: witness against me before the Lord, and before his anointed: whose ox have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I opposed? or of whose hand have I received any bribe to blind mine eyes therewith? and I will restore it you."

And they said, Thou has not defrauded us, nor oppressed us, neither hast thou taken ought of any man's hand.

"And he said unto them, The Lord is witness against you, and his anointed is witness this day, that ye have not found ought in my hand. And they answered, He is witness."

A Glorious Tribute

He had walked before his people from his youth, conscious of his rectitude. If he had ever defrauded or oppressed any or received a bribe he was ready to restore it before all the people. And the people acquitted him of all wrong.

What a glorious tribute! What pecuniary reward—what profit that comes with power, what pleasure purchased by betrayal of the people can weigh in the balance against the verdict, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant!"

In time of peace we sometimes read of graft on the part of officials. Purchasing agents are required to give bonds, and even bonds do not always restrain the temptations to indirect bribery. Every device that cunning can employ is used to extract money from the public treasury. The corruption of legislators became so notorious that the method of electing United States senators was changed in order to protect our highest legislative body from scandals of this kind. And even direct election has not entirely eliminated bribery.

But, more shocking still, even the patriotic sentiment aroused by war could not restrain some of those entrusted by the government with large undertakings. The people, bleeding at the battle's front and burdened by such taxes as they had never borne before, were plundered by men to whom the people looked for unselfish service. This was true in this country and in other countries, as well—and in Christian countries, too.

Four Great Needs

The great need of the world today—not of the United States alone, but of the whole world—is a return to a REAL belief in a REAL God.

We need more consecrated mothers like Hannah, to bear children for the Lord's work, and to train them for their tasks.

We need more men like Samuel to begin the service of God in youth and continue to walk uprightly all their days.

And we need more women, too, who will see in life a purpose higher than mere fleeting pleasures—women who, counting themselves part of God's plans, will seek to know the Father's will that they may be obedient to it.

We also need more public officials in city, state, and nation who, guided by conscience, will not abuse their privileges or embezzle power.

There is a motto that ought to be written over the door of every public building and engraven on the heart of everyone who serves the people:

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold."

(Copyright, 1923, by The Republic Syndicate.)

Is the Book of Revelation to you a mystery and a hopeless jumble of signs and symbols? Something for theologians to quarrel about and the layman to let alone?

No. It is a book full of truth for the present and the plan of God for the future. You need to know more of it. Come and hear Rev. W. H. Pike expound this wonderful book. He is safe, sound and orthodox.

Northern Trip Preceded By Party For Busy Bee Members

Among the pleasant events which preceded the departure early in the week of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White on a motor trip to San Francisco and other northern points, was a meeting of the Busy Bee club at the White home, 820 East Fourth street.

The affair was held in the evening with husbands of the Busy Bees as special guests in honor, an interesting series of events was arranged, including a radio concert together with a number of lively games.

The home was made gay with spring-time blossoms and artistic masses of golden mustard. At a late hour in the evening, Mrs. White served appetizing refreshments to her guests who included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beal, Mr. and Mrs. Davis McBurney, Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Will Jerome, the Rev. and Mrs. George Green, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sherill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and son Avery, Mrs. Nell Winslow, Mrs. R. K. Torrens, Mrs. Hubbard, Willard White and Willie Sherrill.

Music Pupils Present Recital

Advanced piano pupils and a few in oral expression of Daisy Austin Marsden, were presented in a recital at the Marsden home, 122 West Eighteenth street, Thursday evening with a group of approximately half a hundred interested mothers and friends as audience.

An outstanding event of the evening was the presentation of a silver medal from the Sherwood School of Music in Chicago to Miss Agnes Decker in recognition of her record of 98 plus in grades during her first two years of piano study.

The program opened with a composition for two pianos with bells, given by the Misses Grace Hoefler, Evelyn Hoefler, Billie Bell, Katherine Barr and Jane Crawford.

Others appearing on the musical program were the Misses Helen Wiesseman, Mary Nunn, Dorothy Holmes, Marie Osborn, Florence Hoefler, Agnes Decker, Vera Baker, Josephine Ball and two lads, Russel Tibbetta and Walter Cook. Miss Bernice Davis, a pupil of Miss Gladys Harris of the local branch of the Sherwood school also played a piano solo.

Miss Katherine Barr, Miss Helen Gorman and Miss Jeannette Briggs each gave clever readings as examples of their progress in oral expression.

Among those enjoying the pleasant event was Mrs. Homer W. Dunn of South Pasadena who was Mrs. Marsden's house-guest.

Named as Member Of Social Committee

Miss Mabel Rockwell of the Rockwell school of dancing was elected one of the committee of three to entertain the masters of dancing from all over the world in August at Los Angeles. Miss Rockwell also was appointed to a position on the advisory board of the California association, Masters of Dancing.

This is the first convention of dancing masters held in the West, Miss Rockwell said, and for that reason every effort will be made to make it a memorable affair. Several benefit balls are to be given at Los Angeles in order to raise funds for entertainment of delegates. The first of these dances was given last week at Paynes' dancing academy. The second will be given May 23, at Kramers' school of dancing, Los Angeles.

Six Tables Arranged For Afternoon of Whist Playing

A charming effect in delicate coloring was achieved by the use of pink and lavender sweet peas and Cecil Brunner roses at an afternoon whist party presented Thursday by Mrs. E. B. Smith at her home, 106 South Birch street.

Mrs. Smith had six tables arranged for the game and at the close of the appointed number of rubbers gave attractive prizes in gold-encrusted china to Mrs. P. R. Reynolds, scoring high; Mrs. George S. Smith, second high, and Mrs. Angus J. Crookshank for consolation.

At the tea hour, the tables were centered with bowls of Cecil Brunner buds and a dainty two course tea was served, Mrs. Smith being assisted by her two daughters, Mrs. P. A. Preston and Miss Leslie Smith and by Mrs. John S. Talbot and Miss Marian Preston.

A few days preceding the whist party Mrs. Smith was hostess at a smartly appointed luncheon where the same pastel tinted were employed in decorations and in the menu wherever possible. Covers were placed for fourteen and the afternoon was devoted to chatting and music.

Plans Hawaiian Trip

Santa Ana friends of Miss Carolyn H. Stutsman were keenly interested today in the receipt of artistic little gray and blue folders announcing the details of a delightful ocean trip with Hawaii as its objective, which Miss Stutsman is instrumental in arranging.

The party making the trip will sail from Los Angeles harbor on the "City of Los Angeles" July 14, arriving at Honolulu July 20.

Mau and Hilo are also included in the itinerary and at each stop the outstanding beauty spots are to be visited. The homeward voyage will begin July 27 and the ship is expected to dock in Los Angeles harbor August 4, thus offering ten delightful days at a very nominal cost.

Interesting Guests

Among the many interesting visitors drawn to Santa Ana by the city's charm and by friends residing here, are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Goddard of Ann Arbor, Michigan and Altadena who today arrived to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Powell, 2002 Valencia street.

Mr. Goddard, prominently mentioned in "Who's Who," is connected with what is considered to be the greatest law school in the world, that of the University of Michigan where he occupies the chair of Wills, Future Interests, Public Utilities, Bailments and Carriers. He is also the author of a number of volumes of legal lore, accepted as standard authority by schools, colleges and the bar.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Goddard were class-mates of Mrs. Powell at the University of Michigan, graduating the same year, while Mr. Powell, a college-mate, preceded them by three years. The easterners are spending the winter in Altadena.

Pleasant Dinner For Detroit Guest

Extending a pleasant courtesy to a winter visitor in the Southland, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hanley, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Wm. Hanley entertained last night at an attractively appointed dinner at their Orange avenue home.

Mrs. M. Sterling of Detroit who is wintering in Los Angeles, was thus honored during her brief visit in Santa Ana at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gay McDonour. Mrs. Hanley used roses as her floral motif with a cluster nodding at their own reflection in a plateau centering the table.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Hanley, the hosts, Mrs. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Gay McDonour, Miss Teresa McDonour and Mrs. J. Nolan. Following the dinner, the evening was devoted to chatting and music which a number of unusual phonograph records added much pleasure.

Woman's Club

Tuesday afternoon, May 1 has been designated as "past presidents' high jinks day" by members of the Santa Ana Woman's club and in celebrating the event, all will be guests of the president, Dr. Evalene Peo at her home, 523 Lyon street.

Dr. Peo has requested that those coming by the first street bus should take the bus reaching First and Lyon street at 2:15 p. m., as she will have automobiles there at that time to convey them to their home in ample time for the stated meeting hour, 2:30 o'clock.

Bible Class

In anticipation of a crowd of at least 500 women, the Woman's Bible class of the Christian church plans to hold its session in the church auditorium tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock rather than in the community house.

Since "Mother" will be the subject of an address by J. H. LeGrand, evangelist, all church members are planning that their mothers will be honored guests while mothers of the Cradle Roll will also be guests.

To add to the interest of the occasion will be special musical numbers by the "Musical Howes."

Widely Varied Was Program Given At County Convention

"R.L.S." America's most beloved man of letters, was made to live and breathe yesterday for members of the Orange county Federation of Women's clubs by Stephen Chalmers, Laguna writer, authority on Stevenson and founder of the Stevenson Society of America, Inc.

The occasion was the annual convention of the county federation. Members of the Woman's club of Yorba Linda as hosts, opened their recently completed and very artistic club-house to the assemblage. An unusually interesting program was presented over by Mrs. Alvin E. Block of Costa Mesa, county president.

Mrs. E. E. Knight, president of the Yorba Linda Woman's club, was accorded the honor of the presidency of the federation at the election held during the afternoon session when the ticket elected included also the names of Mrs. Hervey T. Trueblood, Santa Ana, vice-president; Mrs. May Jackson, Huntington Beach, recording secretary; Mrs. C. C. Smith, Anaheim, treasurer; Mrs. W. A. Moore, Fullerton, auditor, and an added officer in the person of Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, Santa Ana, elected to fill the place of federated secretary, newly created under the new club constitution.

The duties of Mrs. Fairbanks will be to keep in touch with all the new ideas presented during the year by district and state federations and pass them on to the clubs of the county.

Election of officers was followed by the address of Mr. Chalmers who fascinated his hearers with the many intimate details of R.L.S. given under the topic of "The Sick Man Who Smiled." Many of Stevenson's arguments and long talks with Dr. Trudeau were given while one outstanding feature was a description of the whistle which served as inspiration for so many of the brilliant author's writings and a duplicate of which Mr. Chalmers possesses.

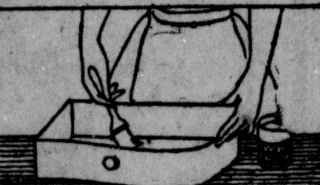

Other interesting features of the session included the address of welcome by Mrs. Knight to which Santa Ana's own Ebbl president, Mrs. John Clark, responded in her usual charming manner.

Mrs. Flora Pyle, county life chairman, gave her report in an unique manner by presenting a paper on that theme. Mrs. Victor Montgomery, chairman of history and landmarks, sought the interest of the federation in purchasing landmarks of historic value in the southern part of the state.

In all it was one of the most interesting and largely attended sessions in the eleven years of the federation.

Household Suggestions

BUREAU DRAWERS
Paint the inside of your bureau drawers with white enamel and they will be easy to keep clean.

LONG-HANDLED BRUSH
A long-handled brush should be a part of every household equipment.

It is excellent for cleaning off greasy dishes before the actual washing occurs.

WASHING SPINACH.
Spinach should be washed through many waters, all of which should contain salt except the last one.

RAW BACON.
Never keep raw bacon in paper—keep it in a dish and keep the rind on until you are ready to fry it.

USE FOR OLD STOCKINGS
Legs of old stockings from which the feet have been removed make good covering to wear over your arms while doing dirty work.

SAFETY MATCHES
Safety matches will light if you strike them on common glass.

DRYING STOCKINGS
After laundering stockings always hang them up by the toes to dry. This way they will not stretch out of shape.

HAND LOTION
Keep a small bottle of hand lotion or a tube of vaseline in the kitchen and use it if you have had to have your hands in cold water frequently.

Two Young Matrons Preside Over Party With Bridge as Motif

Presented by two of the city's youthful matrons was a smartly appointed bridge tea of yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Ernest C. Winbiger and Mrs. Charles V. Doty entertained a group of their friends.

Mrs. Theodore A. Winbiger turned her spacious home at 207 East Ninth street, over to the entertaining hostesses and assisted them in greeting their guests upon their arrival. The attractions of the home were heightened by the lavish use of renunculus, sweet peas, roses and all the wealth of bloom which is at the command of a spring-time hostess.

When the scores were tallied at the close of the afternoon's playing, it was discovered that Mrs. M. B. Lacy had proven victor with Mrs. Don Andrews holding second high score. The lovely gifts were all in crystal and to Mrs. Lacy was given a half dozen foot of glasses while a charming pair of candlesticks fell to the lot of Mrs. Andrews. Equally attractive was the consolation gift of a crystal mayonnaise bowl bestowed upon Mrs. Nat H. Neff.

The gifts were distributed as the guests remained seated at the card tables, which, laid with dainty tea cloths and centered with crystal baskets of blossoms, were used for serving strawberry frappe, delectable little French cakes, salted nuts, mints and coffee. Nut cups were in various delicate tints harmonizing with flaring tulip bows adorning the handles of the flower baskets.

Mrs. Winbiger and Mrs. Doty were assisted in serving by Mesdames H. C. Snow, Raymond Marsile, Peter Fluor, W. L. Swarthout, William Maag and Miss Stella Anderson.

Invited to enjoy the pretty function were Mesdames Anthony Adams, Ray Adkinson, Don Andrews, Robert Anderson, S. D. Barker, George Balderston, J. P. Baumgartner, F. H. Cloyes, George Paul Jr., Albert Fields, O. K. Forgy, W. A. Flood, Peter Fluor, H. A. Gardner, W. L. Grubb, George Gunther, Jules Hilton, J. C. Hayden, F. P. Hull, John Irvin, J. E. Livesey Jr., M. B. ## Sedgwick Post

Yesterday's meeting of the Sedgwick Social club was an unusually enjoyable one from the delicious luncheon served by the hostess, committee at noon to the program opening at 1:30 p. m. with community singing of "America." Judge E. T. Langley in his usual pleasant manner, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Colonel Matthews of the United States army and a resident of Santa Ana many years ago.

Colonel Matthews made a most eloquent address in which he eulogized Ulysses S. Grant whose birthday was celebrated April 27. In his talk the speaker also commented upon the growth and changes in Santa Ana since his departure twenty-five years ago. His address was so eloquent and so inspiring that at its close he was accorded an enthusiastic vote of thanks by the audience which sang with much feeling, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching."

Other splendid musical numbers were given by Mrs. Estelle Ludwig at the piano and Comrade Spencer on the violin. They were recalled many times and gave several different numbers. Mrs. J. W. Johnson delighted with her readings, "The Bachelors' Sale" and "Do Your Duty Whatever Comes" and Comrade George Huntington, with a closing address brought what members and visitors declared to be "The End of a Perfect Day."

Sunflower State Sends Guests Who Enjoy Kansas Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dietrich of North Garfield street very delightfully entertained a few of their former Kansas friends at their attractive home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dietrich was assisted by her daughter, Miss Meta Spahr both in greeting the guests and in serving the delectable refreshments of chicken sandwiches, salad, home-made pickles, coffee, angel-food cake and ice cream.

The afternoon flew on wings as the guests reminisced of former days in the Sunflower state. It was made doubly pleasant by the presence of Mrs. Zena Utter and Mrs. Hazel Hinricks, recently from the home town of Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich, Long Island, Kansas.

The guest group is one that has often enjoyed the hospitality of the Dietrich home and all those present expressed the hope that they might soon experience that pleasure again.

Guests included in addition to Mrs. Utter and Mrs. Hinricks and the latter's daughter of Long Island, Mrs. Elizabeth Hinricks, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Hartstine, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cozad, Mr. and Mrs. David Cozad, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hillyard, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Breeding and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dietrich, Mesdames Mary Kuhl, Gladys Caldwell, Nellie Skelton, Lizzie Hillyard, Mary Hubbard, Amanda Cozad, Eliza Halderman, Minnie Dietrich and grandson, Jessie Kenyon and daughter and Miss Meta Spahr.

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

Cotton Drops $2.50 Per Bale Under Hammering of Professionals

NEW YORK, April 28.—Although today's short session held little attention for the element in the speculative community which likes to see action, it was important from the standpoint of the information it furnished regarding the market's inside position.

With cotton breaking $2.50 a bale and professional operations continuing their hammering of the oil shares the general list manifested indifference toward the prevailing bearishness.

Instead of the heavy selling which such an atmosphere might have produced in the technical situation the volume of dealings fell below Friday's slow pace. The day was hazy, the short interest, which found little encouragement in the new high of the year established by Dupont and the steady industrial leaders such as General Motors, Corn Products and Studebaker.

The market closed slower. U. S. Steel 105, off 3-4; Republic 61, off 1-2; Republic 61, off 1-2; Texas Company 47 1-2, up 1-8; Sinclair 32, off 1-2; Corn Products 152 1-8, off 1-4; Studebaker 71 1-4, off 1-2; General Motors 17 1-8, off 1-8.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 28.—(Office of the Fruit World) — The market on California Navel oranges has continued on its upward trend in all Eastern auction centers again this week. Sizes 150s and smaller command a premium over the larger sizes, ranging from $1.50 to $3.00 per box. Private sale markets have also registered price gains on Navel oranges.

On the whole, the wind-up of the Navel deal is gratifying to growers and shippers and will show better averages than at any time during the present season.

Shippers have been patiently waiting for this turn in the market. Although there are only 2,500 cars of Navel and miscellaneous varieties of oranges remaining for shipment the healthy condition of the present market has given encouragement to shippers in naming opening prices on Valencia oranges.

Heavy Valencia Crop.

In volume the Valencia crop this season will run neck and neck with the combined total crop of other varieties of oranges. Estimates for the Valencia crop run between 25,000 and 26,000 cars.

Shipments to date this season for Navel and miscellaneous varieties of oranges total 23,900 cars. This together with another 2,500 cars yet to go make a grand total of 26,400 cars or approximately the estimated Valencia crop figure.

Packing of Valencia oranges in Tulare County started a week ago but was interrupted by rain. Practically all of the packing houses are now in operation. There are eighteen packing houses in Lindsey, six in Porterville, four in Exeter, five in Strathmore, and one each in many of the smaller districts such as Woodlake, Terra Bella, Orange Cove, etc., that will be working full crews next week.

The Central California Valencia season is expected to run about six weeks.

Valencia Moving.

Valencia oranges are beginning to go forward from Southern California districts also.

F. O. B. California quotations, usual terms, are as follows: Fancy Navel—sizes 80s, 240s and 100s, $2.90; 126s, $3.40; 150s, $3.90; smaller sizes, $4.25. Seedlings and Sweeties, $3.00 to $3.25 per box depending on sizes. This crop is about cleaned up.

Valencias, both Southern and Central California districts, $3.65 to $3.90 per box for fancy grade; fifty cents per box less for choice grade.

Cash quotations on Valencias are on a basis of $3.35 for Central California fruit, cars loaded twenty per cent 126s and larger. Southern California Valencias are quoted at $3.75 per box for cash.

Lemon Demand Strong.

There is a good demand for California lemons in all markets.

F. O. B. California quotations are on a basis of $4.25 to $4.75 for Extra Choice grades.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next thirty days in all United States ports, approximately 119,000 boxes of foreign lemons.

Pratt Leaves M. O. D.

Archibut Pratt who has held the position of sales manager for the Mutual Orange Distributors for many years has resigned.

Pratt has accepted the position of general manager of the Co-operative Fruit Growers Association of Vernon, British Columbia. He has made a close study of co-operative marketing as applied to the fruit industry.

In the departure of Mr. Pratt for his new field of endeavor the California citrus industry loses one of its most energetic workers.

Fred Speich Dead.

Frederick H. Speich, well known fruit grower and shipper of Riverside died suddenly in this city, April 25.

GRAIN PRICES DROP ON CHICAGO BOARD

Improved Crop Prospects and Light Foreign Demand Cause Decline

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, April 28.—Grains were under pressure throughout the day on the Chicago board of trade due to lower foreign markets and better crop prospects. The close was lower.

Reports from Winnipeg stated seeding of spring wheat was well under way in Manitoba and that it is expected to become general throughout the week. No export business was reported. Weather conditions were greatly improved. The Argentine corn crop was estimated at 153,266,000 bushels, compared with an eight year average of 183,570,000. Favorable corn planting weather and prospects of a large acreage were the main influences.

Oats sold off with the other grains but there was little activity.

Provisions held fairly strong.

"HUNTING BIG GAME" AT WEST END TUESDAY

"Hunting Big Game" in Africa With Gun and Camera," the remarkable nine reel visualization of animal and native life of the dark continent, which is now creating a sensation in Los Angeles at the California theater, will be the attraction extraordinary at the West End theater for five days, beginning Tuesday.

In securing this early play date for "Hunting Big Game," Manager Yost, of the West End, has conferred a signal honor on Santa Ana, as very few critics under a half million population have had the privilege of witnessing this picture, which critics declare to be the most unusual and astounding photoplay of a decade.

Under the auspices of the Oakland Museum of Natural History, H. A. Snow, intrepid hunter and explorer, spent more than two years in Africa, and after untold hardships and suffering, returned with the greatest collection of wild animal skins, and the greatest celluloid record of the life of Africa ever gathered by any expedition.

The success of "Hunting Big Game" has brought a score or more so-called animal pictures on the market, but critics declare the H. A. Snow production the peer of them all, because of its many exclusive "shots," one of the most interesting sequences in the entire production being an intimate disclosure of the methods of mining diamonds at the famous Kimberly mines in South Africa.

"Hunting Big Game" is the picture that played in New York City for three solid months at a dollar and a half a seat, the only wild animal picture on the market that has such a record to its credit.

PAULINE GARON COMING IN FILM TO TEMPLE

You remember Pauline Garon of the Paramount picture, "Adam's Rib," which was shown at the Temple theater recently? Well, Miss Garon will soon be with us again in another Paramount picture, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," which is due at the Temple Wednesday, to remain until Sunday.

Others in featured roles are Leatrice Joy, Nita Naldi and Lewis Stone. Miss Garon is again the sophisticated flapper.

"A CALIFORNIA ROMANCE" AT YOST MONDAY

There is something in the thrumming of a guitar in the warm human notes of a lilting love song that awakens in most of us a quick response to the strong appeal of adventure and romance. That is the kind of story which Monday comes to the Yost theater.

"A California Romance," starring John Gilbert, tells of the stirring days when California was ceded to the United States. Advance word from the producer states that the entertainment quality of this photoplay is close to one hundred per cent. There is promise of an unusually engrossing story, masterful direction, keen thrills and a love tale of surpassing interest. Mention is included of particularly artistic photography, and judging from past Fox productions, the claim is well warranted.

SILAS WARNER AT YOST TOMORROW

George Eliot's greatest story, "Silas Marner," has been picturized in six reels and will be shown tomorrow at the Yost theater. Arranged for the screen and directed by Frank P. Donovan, an introductory title in the film says, "It is in deference to public intelligence that this photographic edition of 'Silas Marner,' save for minor rearrangement that time limitation of the theater exacts, has been faithfully picturized as it is written."

"This, indeed, should be great news to the many who have despaired when they have seen their favorite stories distorted beyond all recognition in order to make a photoplay, as well as to those who have read and studied George Eliot's story and love it.

As conceived by George Eliot, "Silas Marner" has everything that goes to make good motion picture entertainment. It is a gripping, poignant, exquisitely tender human interest story of red-blooded homey folks. There is a blending of love, tragedy, mystery, cruel deception and deep sympathy in the plot. And these charms of the story lend themselves admirably to the screen.

ALL-STAR CAST PLAYS IN "DRUMS OF FATE"

Every one a celebrity. This can truly be said of the supporting cast which was assembled to play with Mary Miles Minter in her latest vehicle, "Drums of Fate," which will be the feature at the West End theater beginning tomorrow.

Maurice B. ("Lefty") Flynn, the leading man, achieved fame before coming to the screen as Yale's medal-winning athlete and All-American fullback. However, he has even overshadowed his athletic record by his screen laurels since becoming an actor. He had a striking role in the recent George Melford production for Paramount, "The Woman Who Walked Alone."

George Fawcett, pioneer legitimate actor and one of the distinguished leaders in the field of screen character portrayal, plays Felix Brantome. Equally notable in his respective niche as a screen villain is Robert Cain, who essays a unique character part in this story. Casson Ferguson, the "disappointed lover of the screen," who, along with Cain, has been seen in many Paramount pictures again. Hives up to his title in this production. Ferguson was recently seen in a similar sort of role with Agnes Ayres in "Borderland."

"RIDERS OF THE LAW" AT PRINCESS TOMORROW

"The screen's greatest exponent of the real West." That is the title carried by Jack Hoxie, who is starred in "Riders of the Law," the film which shows at the Princess tomorrow and Monday. And Jack, for he loves the open country and his very soul is in his portraying of roles which visualize its sterling wholeheartedness.

He was born and raised on a ranch on the plains and has fairly breathed the west's pure air as he grew. Two vast ranches are the most valuable of his possessions: one at Burbank, California, where he lives in order to be near his work in Hollywood, some fifteen miles distant; the other, considerably larger, in Idaho.

CHAPLIN'S "THE PILGRIM" CLOSES RUN TONIGHT

What is the biggest laugh in Charles Chaplin's latest picture, "The Pilgrim," the comedy of a thousand laughs, which closes its engagement tonight at the Yost theater? Thousands insist a plum pudding wins it.

Chaplin, as an escaped convict wearing a minister's clothes, is mistaken by the small town congregation as their newly-arrived parson. At the home of one of the members a special dinner is prepared for him. Visitors arrive, including a couple with a mischievous boy.

The festivities in honor of the new "parson" are somewhat spoiled because the precocious youngster uses his father's derby as a covering for the plum pudding. The unsuspecting Charles pours the sauce over it.

The pudding is a sight to make one's mouth water, but old man trouble jumps in with both feet when dad discovers the parson and the guests are eating his hat!

RELEASED ON BAIL

IOWA CITY, Iowa, April 28.—Robert Leeper, aged 22, charged with the first degree murder of his father-in-law, Roy Wertz, here last December, was released from the Johnson county jail under $35,000 bail.

REMODEL CAMELS FOR "BELLA DONNA"

How many humps has a camel? That is the question that confronted the production staff engaged in producing Pola Negri's first American picture, "Bella Donna," which will complete its run at the Temple theater tomorrow night.

Investigation revealed that there are two kinds of camels. One is the "bactrian" camel, boasting of two humps and Asiatic in its origin; the second is the "dromedary," which has only a single hump and is a native of northern Africa.

Now the camel of Egypt, where much of the dramatic action of "Bella Donna" transpires, is the dromedary or one-humped camel. But the only camels to be found within a radius of a thousand miles of Paramount's West coast studio were of the two-humped variety. Therefore, it was necessary to remodel the two-humped camels into one-humped dromedaries. This was done by padding the space between the bactrian's two humps and covering it with camels' fur. The result was a fair imitation of the one-humped Egyptian camels.

Not only does Pola Negri appear with the dromedaries as atmosphere, but practically the entire cast, which includes Conway Tearle, Conrad Nagel, Lois Wilson, Claude King, Macey Harlam and Robert Schable, occasionally shares honors with these remodeled "ships of the desert."

"THE NINETY AND NINE" AT YOST FRIDAY

Colleen Moore is the heroine in the big production, "The Ninety and Nine," which will be shown at Yost theater next Friday and Saturday. Miss Moore was selected from a score of leading women because she suited the role of Ruth Blake as perfectly as though it had been written for her. Another important role in the cast has been filled by Gertrude Astor, who is in constant demand. Warner Baxter, one of the popular young leading men of the screen, heads the list of men.

LA HABRA CLUB PLANS CABIN IN CANYON

Fund Will Provide Outing Place for Community Uses

LA HABRA, April 27.—The La Habra Kiwanis Club will proceed at once to establish and equip a summer camp for the use of the community in Ice House Canyon at the foot of Mt. Baldy. A committee consisting of Claude A. Smith, L. J. Wester, J. W. Walker and W. L. York made a trip into the canyon on Tuesday of this week and selected a site for the camp.

The site selected is about three-fourths of a mile up the canyon from Chapman's lodge. The lot has 150 feet of frontage on the creek and runs back about 200 feet to the foot of the mountain. The committee was especially impressed with the fine view of the snow capped peaks from the spot where the cabin will be erected. The elevation is 6000 feet.

A cabin 18 by 20 feet will be erected and in addition there will be three tents with walls and floors 16 by 16 feet. A large fire place will be erected for cooking outside while the cabin will be equipped with a stove and fireplace. The tents will be furnished with army cots and pads.

The club plans to make it possible for groups of boys and girls to go there for their outings under the care of their leaders. The Boy Scouts will have a period or two through the summer for their own camp. Older people of the community who cannot get away for a vacation on account of expense will be taken to the camp by members of the club and if necessary food will be provided. The club hopes above everything else to make the camp do a real service for the community.

The matter of finance to put the project over was taken up at the directors meeting a few days ago, and to show their faith in the plan $195 was subscribed. After the paper had been circulated among the members the secretary announced that $525 dollars had been subscribed including that previously subscribed at the director's meeting. The committee estimated that the camp as now planned will cost about $600. The members who were absent from the meeting today were counted on to make up the last $75. The camp will be pushed to completion at once.

SCHOOL PRINCIPALS TO GO TO CONVENTION

FULLERTON, April 28.—Principal Louis E. Plummer of the Fullerton union high school, and C. A. Marcy, principal of the Fullerton grammar schools, will attend the high school principals' state meeting to be held at Yosemite May 14 to 18.

The meeting will consider high school problems.

Mr. Plummer will present about half a dozen lantern slide views of the Fullerton high school, with a brief discussion of the school plant.

The state commissioner of secondary schools has asked Mr. Plummer to be one of 12 high school principals, from the state to pass on the attitude of the University of California in the matter of continuing to offer algebra and geometry for university credit.

Safety First Advocate Has Close Shave at Santa Fe Crossing

FULLERTON, April 28.—After having handed to hundreds of motorists various kinds of "Safety First" literature, Mrs. Virgil Smith came very near being a victim of failure to heed safety first warnings. Mrs. Smith got across the Santa Fe tracks at Raymond avenue—but just did get across. The engine tore the spare tire off the rear of her automobile.

For some time Mrs. Smith, then Miss Nina Vance, was chief clerk of the Automobile Club of Southern California in Fullerton office.

"Stop! Look! Listen!" Mrs. Smith repeated this slogan thoughtfully today, and is saying it every day in every way.

BATHING GIRLS WILL PARADE ON JUNE 25

BALBOA, April 28.—The fifth annual bathing beauty parade will take place at Balboa this year Sunday afternoon, June 25, under the auspices of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement made today by chamber officers.

The parade, which promises to eclipse in numbers and splendor any held in the past here, will be under the supervision of Miss Jewel Pathé.

Last year between 25,000 and 35,000 people were attracted to this beach by the parade and a larger crowd is expected this year with the completion of the extensive paving which is now being laid.

The parade will start from the board walk and continue from Newport to Balboa. The committee in charge said that more details would be announced soon.

SEAL BEACH BANK HAS GOOD REPORT

SEAL BEACH, April 28.—The California State Bank of Seal Beach has made remarkable progress during its four months of business life. The bank was opened for business December 2, 1922, with 327 people depositing a total of $31,603.33. In the report on April 2 to the state superintendent of banks nearly 500 depositors were shown with a total deposit of $134,236.17.

This is indicative of the spirit of progress and new life Seal Beach is now launching into and the bank is one of the chief factors in bringing this about. W. D. Miller is president of the bank.

NEW EVENTS ON PROGRAM FOR YACHT CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, April 28.—Perhaps not in years has the Newport Harbor Yacht club arranged such an interesting program as has just been announced by the directors for the 1923 season. Reports of various committees and inspection of improvements about the club house indicate a fast, snappy round of events.

Considerable planning and study is being given to the future of the club. It is expected that a definite building program will have to be followed to take care of increased demand which is certain to follow as a result of improved conditions of stunts, in the harbor town of Orange county.

Five new members were voted into the club at the last directors' meeting, including Tom Mix, the motion picture actor.

McPHERSON MAN IS CRIPPLED WHEN HE JUMPS FROM TRUCK

ORANGE, April 28.—J. C. Smart, 35 years of age, night watchman for the Orange Bell Oil Refining company at McPherson, was badly injured in alighting from a grocery truck. Smart, who is slightly crippled, is believed to have attempted to alight from the truck while it was in motion, falling on his head. C. H. Greer, driver of the truck, took the injured man to the County hospital, where he was treated for facial lacerations.

FIFTY HOUSES TO BE BUILT AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, April 28.—An organization, formed and headed by Roy W. Purpus, has purchased from the Yoch company the property on which the postoffice store, owned by J. N. Isch, stands.

There is a frontage of 225 feet on the boulevard, 500 feet on the street that parallels the boulevard on the north and 155 feet on the street on which the Isch store faces, and it is, at the widest place, 258 feet.

The property runs east from the store, up the hill towards Arch Beach, and has a grove of eucalyptus and cypress trees on it, and has been a favorite camping ground for many years.

Mr. Purpus intends to build fifty apartments and cottages or courts, to rent.

They will be modern in every respect and will be furnished artistically and completely and each will have an open fireplace.

On the corner where the postoffice store has stood for so many years, a large building will be erected to house the offices of the organization.

Lumber is already on the ground and a crew of workmen will start to work Monday.

Mr. Purpus says he will save the trees as much as possible, erecting the buildings among them.

Mr. Purpus also says that he guarantees to open Friday, June 15.

The Isch store will be moved back and Mr. Isch will remain in it for awhile.

NO DELAY PLANNED ON BEACH HIGHWAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Apr. 28.—In discussing the matter of the completion of the Ocean highway to this city with Supervisor Thomas B. Talbert, he said that there was no delay in the rumors current recently that the work would be held up. It is being pushed more than ever.

The contract for the 300-foot bridge which the county will build has been let and work is under way. While this bridge will not be ready by July 1, it will not delay the opening of the boulevard as the old bridge can be used until it is finished. It is expected now that the highway will be opened for traffic by July 1. The reason the building of the bridge at Anaheim landing was held up was that the supervisors wanted to lower the grade. The government has given this permission and the work was started at once. It was lowered from 13.5 feet to 8 feet which will make the work less expensive for the county. The bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for the building of Ocean avenue from city limit to city limit Monday evening and the trustees will try and have the road inside of the city limits finished by the time the Ocean highway is complete.

SAW DEATH COMING, SO HE REFUSED TO MARRY

FRANKLIN, N. H., April 28.—The presentation of a death which haunted Joseph Arthur Menard, 18 years old, of this town, was so strong that the youth postponed his wedding. "I'll be dead in March," he told his fiancée. He is dead. The wedding had been set for the week following Easter. Although young Menard was in good health and spirits, he made this dependent prediction. He was stricken with a shock which proved fatal.

TO REPLACE TUSTIN CHURCH THIS FALL

Long an outpost for Presbyterianism in Southern California the First Presbyterian church, located on the northwest corner of C and Main streets, Tustin, is soon to see its service end and will give way to a new $40,000 church to be erected by the congregation in the fall. The old church was built largely through the efforts of David Hewes in 1883. Mr. Hewes made numerous trips to San Francisco where he solicited assistance from builders who made donations of lumber, lime, nails and the like. The material was shipped down by boat. The present pastor of the church is W. S. McDougall who has occupied the pulpit at Tustin for nine years.

START SOON ON PRE-COOLING BUILDING

FULLERTON, April 28.—Fullerton is to have a pre-cooling plant, the purpose of which is to function preserving qualities to citrus fruit intended for transcontinental shipment. Work is to be started on the new structure within the next 30 days, and is to cost approximately $125,000. This was the statement given out this morning by Abe Pritchard, manager of the Placentia Orange Growers' association.

The location will be south of and adjoining the present building and spur tracks will be extended to render the economic handling of cars.

The proposed plant will be strictly modern in every particular and will have storage capacity for 1200 tons of ice at one time. Six cars of oranges per day may be pre-cooled, while storage facilities for 36 cars are to be provided.

The building of the plant is being done with the idea of bringing us any extra business," declared Mr. Pritchard, "but with the object of rendering members of the association the best possible service. It takes about 10 tons of ice to supply a car. Twelve hundred tons will be kept on hand while we are running full blast, we can draw on the ice in storage as a reserve. So that in case of a railroad tieup, or other interference with shipments, we can put the fruit in the cooling room and hold it at a regular temperature until ready to load out. In times past, we have had to hold the fruit for three weeks. This harms fruit, often spoiling it; but with the new pre-cooling plant we can keep the fruit in perfect condition."

Touching the high-lights of many other benefits, the manager continued: "With this new plant in operation, we can always be ready for cars, for we will be able to pre-cool fruit immediately after being packed, instead of letting it be held on the floor for several days, as has been the case in the past. There are other advantages such as being better able to select sizes and grades. If an order comes in for a special size, we will have it in the pre-cooling plant."

Orange growers under this new plan will have a better outlet for their oranges; sometimes in the past, the association has been compelled to let oranges remain on the trees because there was no storage, Mr. Pritchard said.

Irregularity of shipments, it was asserted, will no longer obtain. Frequently the association has had tons of oranges, necessitating in some shipment, on hand. Fruit spoiled for lack of cars. Then there was the other extreme, no oranges, and big flocks of cars. With the new pre-cooling plant, the vicissitudes of railroad conditions will no longer vex the association. It will ship when oranges and cars are on hand; it will safely hold oranges when cars are not obtainable.

There will also be a two-reel picture, "Gallagher," the latest one of Richard Harding Davis' delightful stories. This concerns a lad who had a thirst for adventure, and a true newspaperman's instinct for a good story, and the film shows how he gets both.

As this is the last community show of the school year, the Parent-Teacher association have planned this exceptionally good program.

BIG BEAR ROAD IS GOOD AVER S. A. SCOUTS AFTER TRIP

Local Party Drives Buick Six to Resort, Reports Conditions There
MANY TROUT IN LAKE
Motorist Throng Expected To Trek to Streams As Fishing Season On

Auto resurrection day next Saturday, and opening of the trout season next Tuesday, divided honors today in the attention of the motoring public here.

With the opening of the fishing season near at hand, many sportsmen who pride themselves on their ability to land the speckled beauties were preparing to depart tomorrow or Monday for various streams.

According to Elmer Preston, of Lively's sporting goods store, 216 East Fourth street, Big Bear lake is going to offer some good sport to fishermen. In order to obtain first hand information on conditions at Big Bear, Lively's this week organized a scouting party composed of Stanley Reed, Jack Lowe, William R. Gordon, Leo Tiede and himself. For investigation of the situation at the popular mountain resort. A 1923 Buick Six was commissioned, with the Reid Motor company, local agent, supplying the car.

Answers Common Questions

How are the roads to Big Bear? How long does it take to get there? Which is the best route to take? Are there plenty of fish?

Preston declares he has been besieged with such questions in the past few days, and that he decided on the trip so that he might answer such questions intelligently.

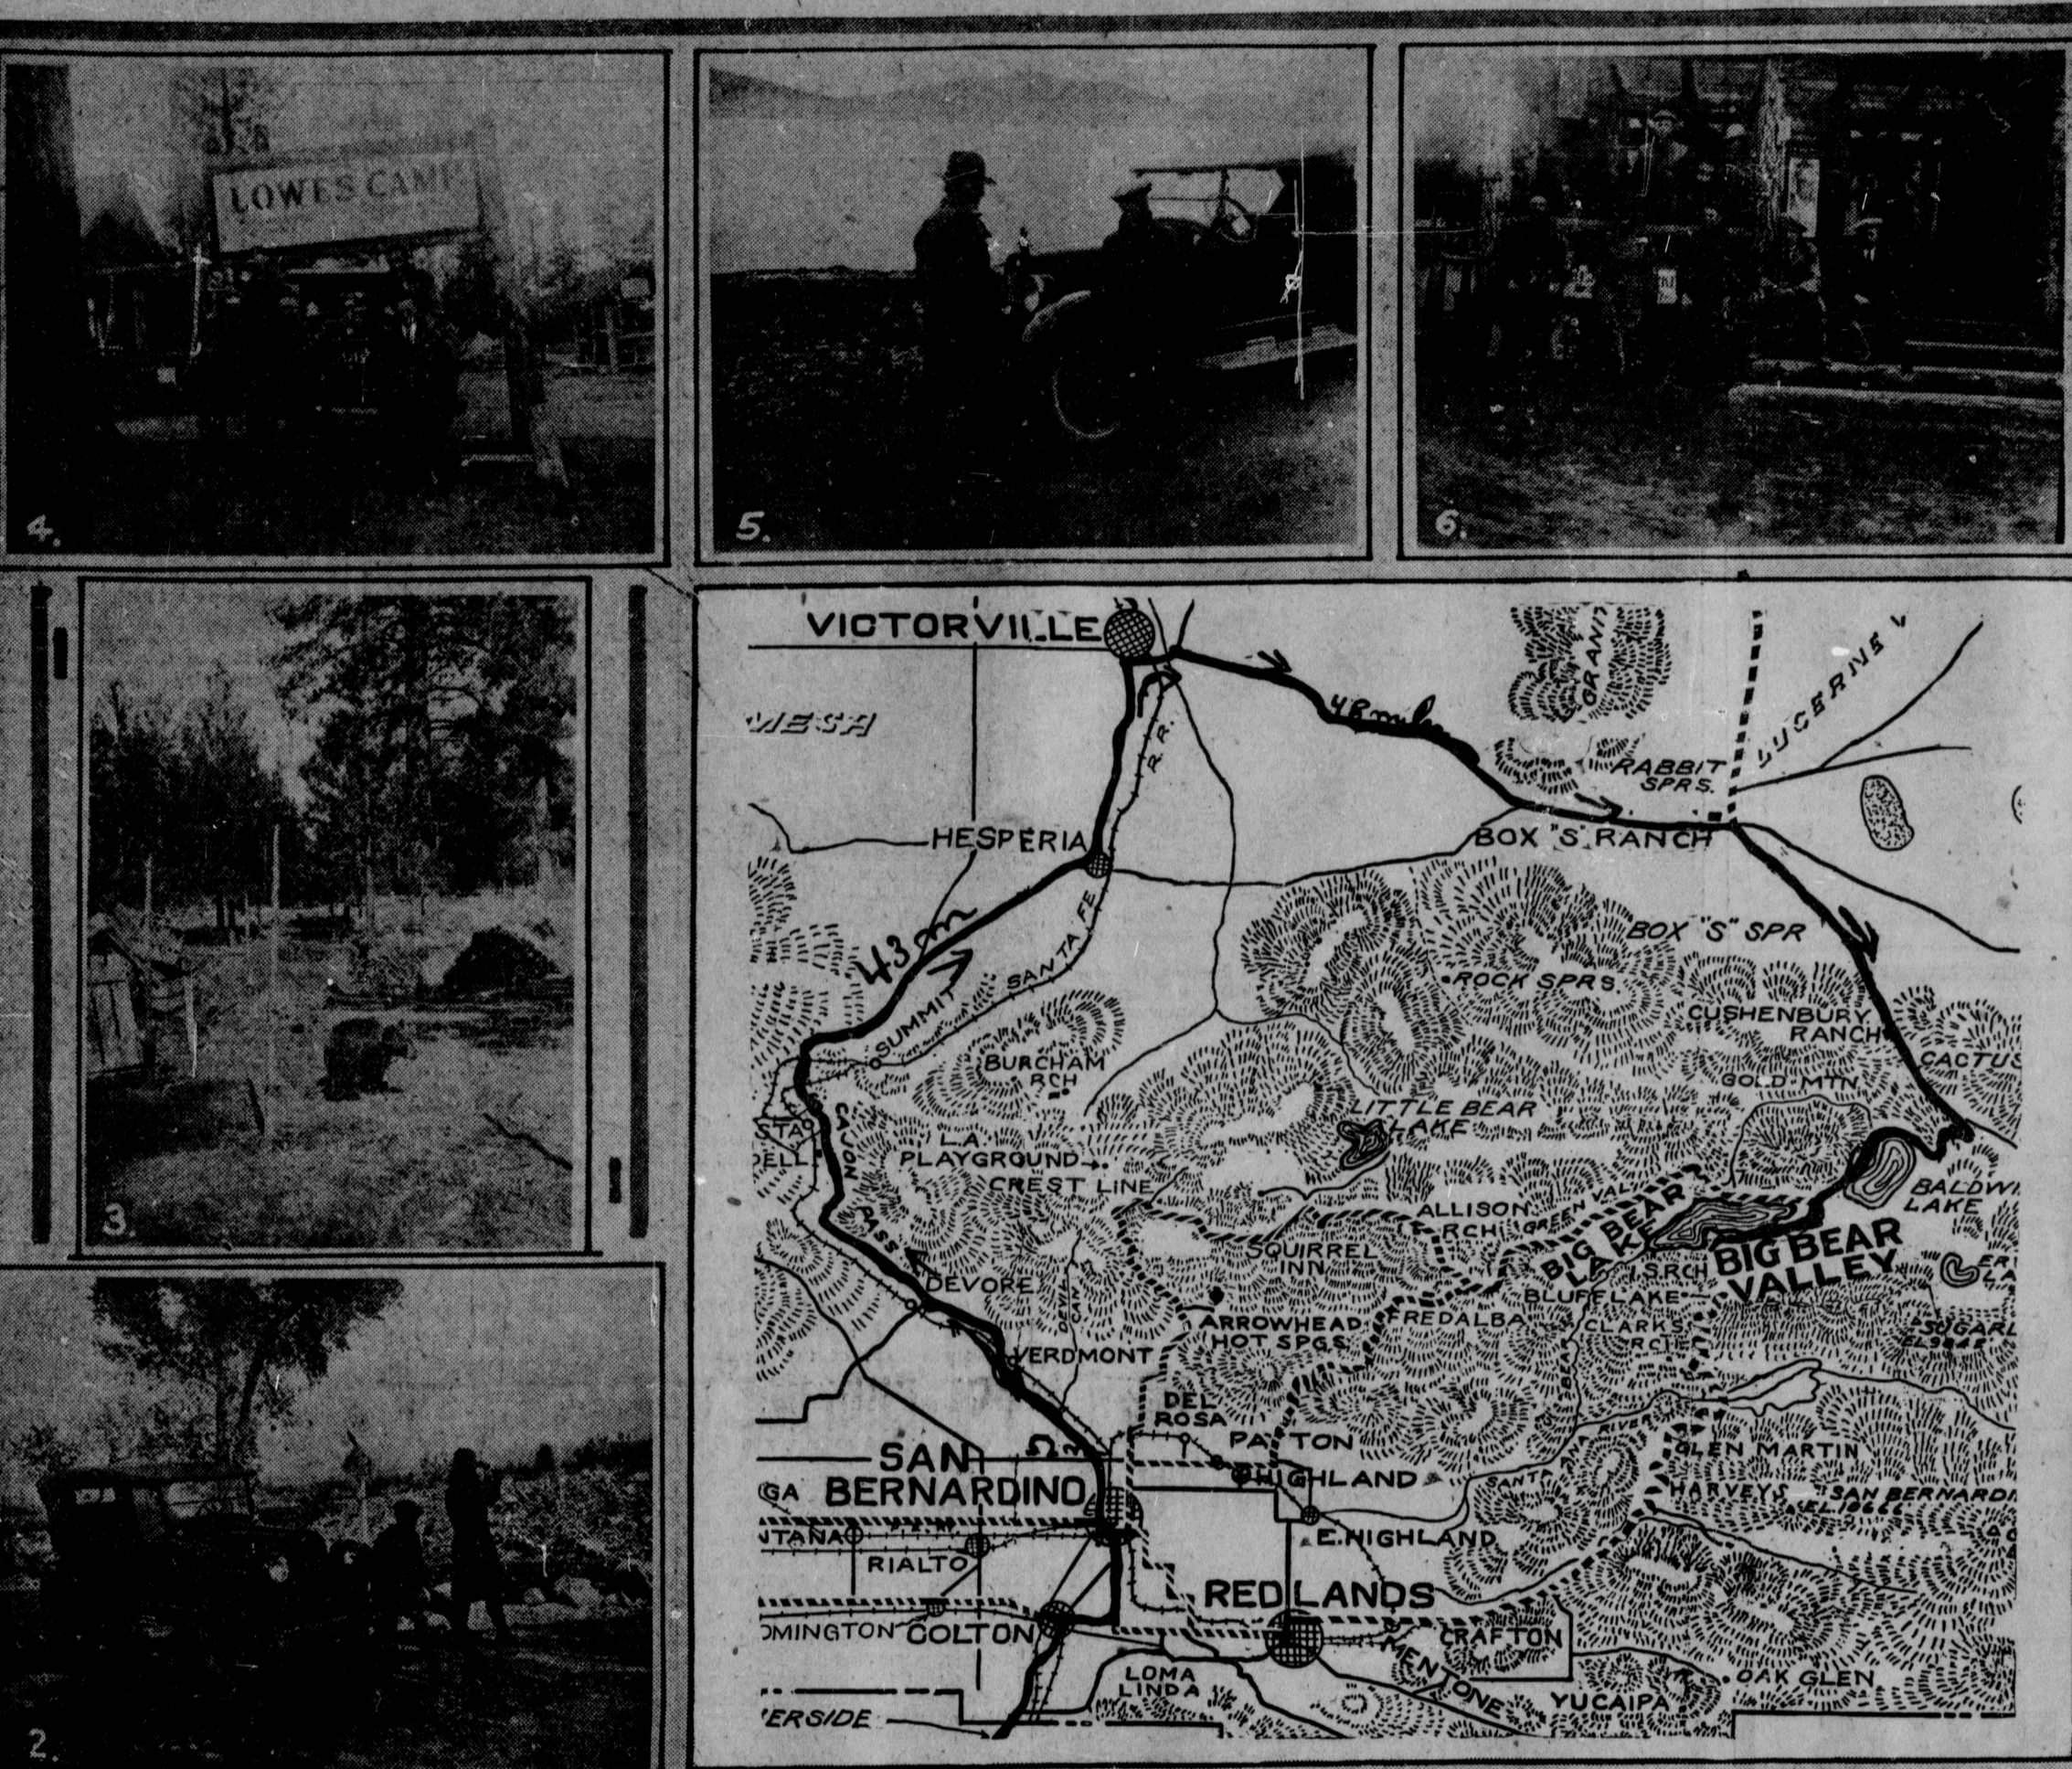

"We made the run to the valley by way of the Victorville, or desert, road," said Preston. "We covered the 143 miles from Santa Ana to Big Bear easily in five hours. The trip is not hard. The dirt road from Victorville to the valley is in wonderful condition, considering the recent rains."

"From Santa Ana we followed the road to San Bernardino, driving straight through the city to Highland avenue, turned to the left on Highland avenue and followed that thoroughfare to the second railroad crossing, where we turned to the right. We continued this course through Cajon Pass to Victorville. We found this place right up to the minute, with a confectionery operating under the name of 'King Tut's Tomb.'"

Take Center Road

HERE IS MAP SHOWING BEST ROUTE TO BIG BEAR LAKE

Here is road map pointing out best route to Big Bear lake, as recommended by Elmer Preston, of Lively's, who made a special trip to the lake to gain information on fishing and road conditions for local persons contemplating fishing expeditions to the place for opening of trout season, and views taken on the tour. The road map was prepared on the assumption that local drivers are familiar with the route out of Orange county. No. 1, map showing route taken by Lively's scouting party to Big Bear lake; No. 2, the desert road; No. 3, a bear at Bear lake; No. 4, Stanley Reed, Jack Lowe, Elmer Preston and William R. Gordon and Buick at Lowe's camp; No. 5, at Baldwin's lake; No. 6, Guides, two standing and one at extreme left, waiting for the opening of the trout season.

34 CARS ENTER RESURRECTION RACE TO WIN JUNK TITLE OF COUNTY

Drivers and Roaring Wrecks Ready for Next Saturday's Event
PRIZE LIST READY
Executive Committee to Meet Monday to Map Out Final Plans

With thirty-four cars entered for the 25-mile junk auto championship race here on Auto Resurrection Day, Saturday, May 5, and Chairman R. L. Bisby having called a special meeting of the executive committee to be held Monday evening, in the city council chamber, the stage was fast being set for the gigantic parade, race, musical and dance program.

One day's canvass of merchants this week resulted in more than $500 worth of cups and merchandise being donated as awards to the winners of the various features in the parade.

At a gathering of drivers held this morning a panoramic photograph of all the cars, drivers and mechanics who are to take part in the race program was made for use in a special section of The Register to be published next week.

At the same time, the drivers were given instructions as to the best means of breaking in the track for the big race.

Drivers who have been practicing on the course have been holding to the inside posts, Boyd Ellis, Chick Dietrich and other experienced racing drivers called attention to the fact that in the race someone will have to be on the outside. Therefore, it was pointed out, this is an opportune time to break in the outer portions of the track.

"In practicing," said Ellis here today, "I found that in order to pass a slower car it would, of course, be necessary to drive to the outer side. This not only applies to me, but to all other entrants as well."

"My suggestion is offered for the benefit of all. I want to see a good, clean race, with the best man winning, but drivers should protect themselves and others by doing their bit toward turning out and breaking in the outer edges of the track."

Eddie Pullen, nationally known racing driver and holder of the world's road racing record, who will act as starter, is now in Arizona.

ASSERTS RADIO BUSINESS NOT DYING OUT

According to Earl Matthews, president and manager of the Orange County Ignition works, talk of the radio business dying out is foolish. It is true the radio 'crash' has more or less run its course, for it has now reached the point where constructive steps are being taken in the building of a great industry.

"We find that competition and quality production are bringing about the elimination of the 'fly-by-night' who rushed into the new market with any sort of an article, merely to get in on the ground floor."

"Today there are one and a half million receiving stations in the United States and every day finds this number swelled. By the end of the summer there will be more than two and a half million 'listeners' in."

"We have confidence in the future of radio. We have taken the agency for the 'Kennedy Radio sets, which we believe to be the very best on the market. We have also a complete assortment of parts and supplies."

RYE, England, April 28.—The American golf team suffered its first serious defeat when the Oxford-Cambridge society won the morning four-ball matches, 4 to 2, today.

Cyril Tolley and D. H. McMonaghen, British, won from Herron and Johnson two to one.

GROOMING OF 'DESERT RAT' FOR JUNK RACE DRAWS EYES TO REO

"Resurrection" this week for the famous Buick which Henley and Boyd Ellis drove in the Los Angeles-to-Phoenix races in the days when this race was one of the big annual events of the Pacific coast, has created an interest in the recent performance of a Reo in a dash from Los Angeles to the capital of Arizona.

The distance of 671 miles was negotiated by the Reo in 21 hours and 18 minutes, breaking the record of 22 hours and 44 minutes made ten years ago by Barney Oldfield.

The route was by way of Victorville, across the desert to Needles and through the mountains of Northwestern Arizona by way of Kingman, Seligman, Prescott, Wickenburg and Hot Springs Junction into Phoenix.

DEALER HERE TELLS DELIVERIES OF FORDS

It has not been so very many years since the average motorist was satisfied with 3,500 miles from a frabic tire and before then he looked at tires in the light of doubt and speculation. That was when automobile salesmen lost the sale of a car if a tire blew out while they were demonstrating.

"But how different now," says W. G. Pagenkopp, of the Broadway Service station, the local Goodrich dealer, "when eight, ten and fifteen thousand miles are more the rule than exceptions. Scientific construction and engineering developments have more than tripled the uniform durability of tires in the last decade. The process of improvement has been so consistent and gradual that few people stop to realize today what a beneficial change in tire service has been brought about."

"Ten years ago the Goodrich company estimated that five tires were required to keep an automobile in operation for a year. Today the average consumption per car runs approximately two and one-half tires or half of what was required ten years ago."

URGES GARAGES IN APARTMENT BASEMENTS

Why not garages on the lower floors or basements of office buildings and apartment houses?

This question was being propounded today by D. Z. Smith, sales manager for Edgar and Hays, local distributors for the Oakland.

He was offering this as a suggestion for helping out the parking conditions, particularly in large cities.

"Both the downtown parking question and the question of garage room for occupants of apartment houses, which have grown tremendously of late years in the larger cities, calls for some solution in the near future," Smith said.

"There is a tendency today to put gymnasiums in large business office buildings to save time and give healthful exercise to the tenants. The parking of automobiles for these tenants is just as serious a matter."

"Now virtually all suburban homes have their own garages. Why not apartment houses? Basements and the rear ground floors will serve the purpose instead of separate buildings covering valuable property."

shore and others leaping into the air, some of them as high as three feet from the surface of the water. Judging from what we saw, I would say that eight and ten-pounders will be common this season. According to Lowe and others, the fish are very hungry and they will be ready to grab hooks on the first day.

DODGE BROTHERS TYPE-A SEDAN

Its dependability is taken for granted—its economy of operation is proverbial.

Comment, as a rule, is directed to the richness of its fittings, and the dignified beauty of its coach work.

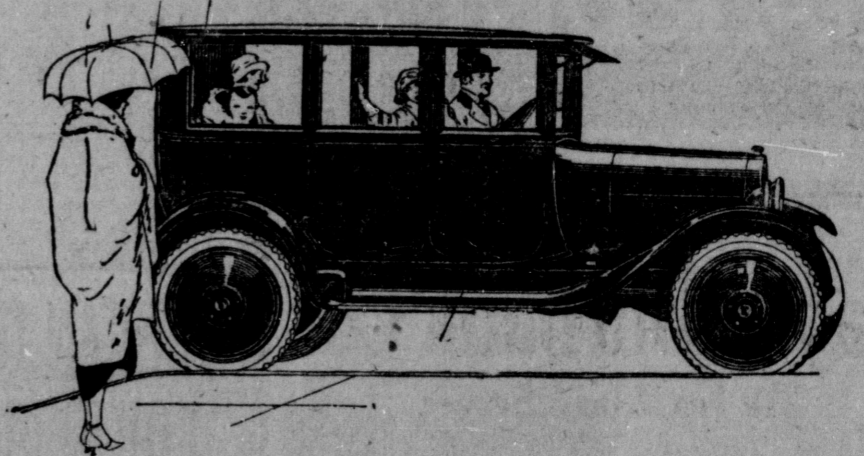

This beauty is not a superficial thing. It goes much deeper than mere external adornments.

Like all creations of genuine excellence, it emanates from the honest value which Dodge Brothers have built into the car.

You sense it in the depth and comfort of the seats—richly upholstered in genuine mohair velvet. It makes itself known the instant you close the doors—which snap solidly shut, like the doors of a safe. It emanates unmistakably from every line and curve of the sturdy body.

It becomes most evident when you discover that in a smart company, where a car of less distinction would appear at its worst, Dodge Brothers Type-A Sedan appears at its best.

Ten and fifteen-pound trout are awaiting chances to grab the hooks of fishermen going to Arrowhead lake (formerly Little Bear) for the opening of the season, according to George Ash, of the Overland Santa Ana company, who made a run to the resort Monday, in company with Abe Weibe, mechanic at the Overland garage, and Leo Tiede, photographer.

Ash went primarily to inform himself on fishing conditions there, and incidentally to prepare his cabin for occupancy by himself and Mrs. Ash on the first day of the open season for trout, which is Tuesday of next week.

Waterman canyon is the best route, both for the going and coming trip, according to Ash, who reports that the new road by way of Hesperia is dangerous, because of its narrowness.

"The Waterman canyon road should be in excellent condition by the opening date, as recent rains and snow made it only slightly muddy," said Ash.

Says Water Clear
"Barring further rains the streams will be in fine condition for fishing. The water is almost clear now and is clearing rapidly. Boatmen at Arrowhead told me that owing to the early spawning season and clearing of the water, fishing at the lake should be better than in past seasons. I saw late spawners in streams feeding the lake. Some of them must weigh around six pounds."

He pointed out that boats are engaged ahead and that persons who went there would find craft available only in case some fishermen caught their limits early and returned their boats.

Upon arrival at his cabin, Ash found that it had been broken into during the winter and occupied by men who left a note to which they signed themselves "The Frozen Snow Birds." The note was as follows:

Still Waiting For Money
"Dear Sir: Sorry, but it had to be done. Just ate some of your food. Took nothing. Got caught in storm, so 'twas either freeze to death or come in your shack. Had to break window to enter. Will send $20 in course of next few days to pay for damage and food. Thank you."

The note was written on a letterhead of F. L. Austin, father-in-law of Ash, which had been left in the cabin. To date Ash has not received the money.

"We made the run in a Little Overland," said Ash. "All of the occupants of the car became enthusiastic boosters for the little car for mountain work."

Ash last year made twenty-four round trips to his cabin in a Willys-Knight, which he believes to be one of the best mountain cars ever built, but said today that he would have to take his hat off to the new Overland.

A Car That Women Like to Drive

The sense of safety that comes from responsive mechanism is an important element in a woman's enjoyment of her car.

Among the many improvements which mark the latest Gardner Fours are several that contribute directly to safety and ease of control.

The improved Gardner clutch operates with 50% less pressure than was formerly required—more easily, we believe, than that of any other low or medium priced car.

The Gardner braking system also has been notably improved, with greatly increased braking surface and a more efficient emergency brake operating on the transmission.

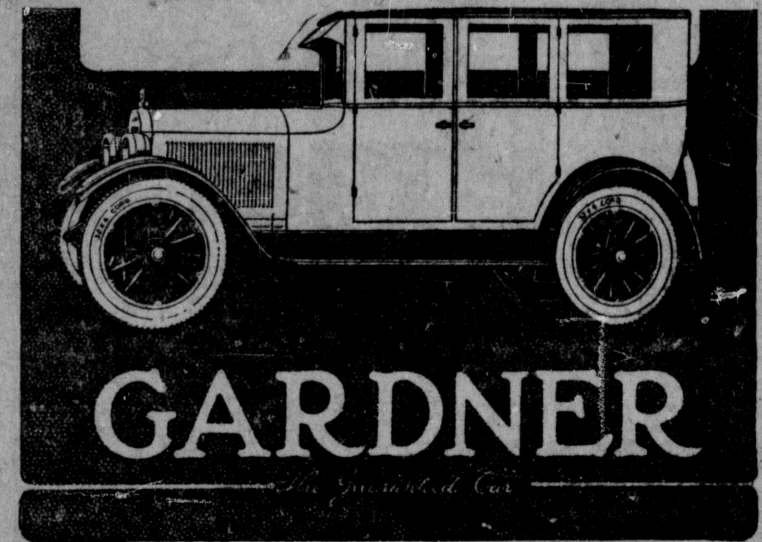

Women drivers appreciate these features—as well as the attractive appearance, roominess, comfort and nice details of equipment that round out the balanced value Gardner offers.

See the Gardner Four in our showroom; then let us prove its performance on the road.

JORDAN ORDERS FOR TWO DOOR SEDAN LARGE

Two thousand immediate orders for a new enclosed model was the reward of the Jordan Motor Car company for an idea which has been endorsed hundreds of times by Edward S. Jordan, president, in his talks to dealers' associations through the country, according to Otto Kolberg, of the Orange County Garage company, local Jordan distributor.

"When Jordan said that the greatest seven-passenger car in the world was the Ford and the greatest two-passenger the Rolls Royce," Kolberg said, "he had in mind the rapid development of the enclosed car as a substitute for the old-fashioned open car as a means of transportation for the American people."

This year, thousands and thousands of people who have come to object to the discomfort on rainy days that is experienced with the open car and are making their first step into the enclosed car field, will satisfy themselves with the popular two-door type.

"Next year Jordan predicts a general demand for a four-door car which will accommodate the average family of five people."

"In anticipation of this development Jordan has produced the first medium priced four-door Brougham in the well-established Jordan quality."

FORMER S. A. MAN DIES AT HUNTINGTON PARK

Completion of preparations for the funeral of Pharus Coones, 44, who died at Huntington Park Wednesday, today awaited definite word as to the possible time of the arrival of his 13-year-old son, Moran, from Texas.

Mr. Coones was a resident of this city and of Orange for a number of years prior to removing to Huntington Park, where he was a salesman of securities.

He was taken ill Wednesday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Nora Walton, and died that evening at the hospital at Huntington Park. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Coones had long suffered from heart trouble.

It is possible that funeral services will be held at Huntington Park Monday afternoon, with interment in the Santa Ana cemetery following. Brief services will be held at the grave.

Mr. Coones was a brother of Mrs. James Nuckolls of this city. Other brothers and sisters are Frank and Mrs. Ella Gard, Los Angeles; Mrs. Lula Gettin, Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Walton, Huntington Park.

OLD OX CART FOUND BUILT ON AXLE MADE BY STUDEBAKER FIRM

The old ox cart driven into Santa Ana a short time ago to advertise the fiesta at Hemet, was built on an axle made by the Studebaker company, it was declared today by Fred Ross, sales manager for the Bowles Motor company.

More or less "nosey" because of his experience as a newspaper man in early life, Ross critically examined the cart while it was here. So interested was he in the old relic that he got down on his knees to get a glimpse of the bottom of the cart—and he was rewarded, for he found on the axle a faint trade mark of the Studebaker, indicating that it had been manufactured by the company many years ago.

NIKRENT TRAVELS MILE IN 33 SECS.

A mile in 33.26 seconds, an average of 108.24 miles per hour, in a Buick car that was virtually stock from stem to stern, was the new record established by Joe Nikrent over a straightaway course in the Mojave desert last Tuesday, according to J. W. Tubbs, manager of the Reid Motor company, Buick dealer.

A splitting southeast wind which swept over Rogers Dry lake, the scene of the trial, and nearly turned Nikrent's car turtle prevented him from attempting more than three trials.

"Nikrent made 33.49 seconds the first time, 33.26 seconds the second time and 33.31 seconds the third trial," said Tubbs. "Observing the danger encountered by Nikrent because of the howling gale, Fred Wagner, starter, refused to permit the Buick pilot to take further chances," said Tubbs.

According to Tubbs, business at the agency here the past week has been moving rapidly, as indicated by the following deliveries:

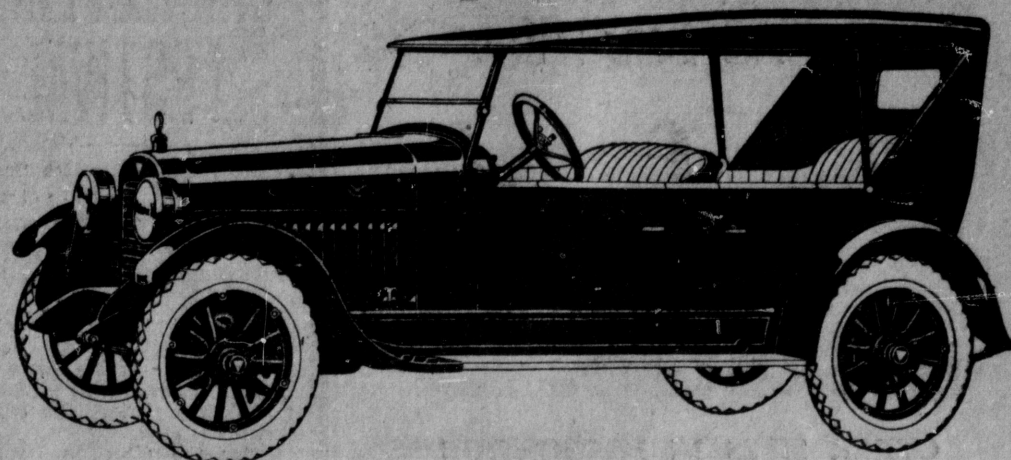

Touring cars, J. N. Buckwalter, Carl L. Stephens, Rene Callens, Santa Ana; touring sedan, Mrs. Minnie Newman, Santa Ana; roadster, Spencer Collins, Santa Ana; W. A. Gill, touring, and Mrs. Ella Seaver, sedan, Garden Grove; Mrs. Harriet C. Garretson, coupe, and Charles Heins, sedan, Orange; touring cars, J. M. Whitney, R. J. Prescott and George W. Burns, Huntington Beach.

SHEPHERD TRIES SUICIDE AND BURNS HAIR OFF HIS HEAD

ELY, Nev., April 28. — Martin Juzargat, Basque shepherd, pointed a pistol at his head and pulled the trigger. He flinched and the bullet went through his hat. Semi-smokeless powder singed most of his hair off.

Juzargat is in the county jail, growing a new crop of hair while he awaits trial for the attempted murder of his wife and Gracian Etchebarran, also a Basque.

JOE NIKRENT

was speed pilot who piloted the Buick on its dash.

JOE NIKRENT, driving a non-stock Model 23-6-45 BUICK, established a new record on April 13, 1923, by driving a mile in 33.26 seconds, or at the rate of 108.24 miles per hour. This run was made over the bed of a dry lake near Murco, a small station on the Mojave Desert in Kern County, California. The run was official in every respect, being timed by A. A. A. officials using the electrical timing device used at the Los Angeles Speedway over a surveyed course. Fred Wagner, the famous starter, served as official starter for the run.

Over a million Buick motors are behind this Buick's performance. A steady development of the Buick's Valve-in-Head type of motor makes it possible to attain this remarkable speed without any radical changes in motor design.

Buick does not intend to again enter the racing game. Buick has always said, and says now louder than ever that their smooth and quiet Valve-in-Head motor represents the highest type of development for speed, power and economy; and this performance was just another little demonstration to call attention to the facts that the 1923 Buick is the greatest Buick ever built, and that, "when better automobiles are built, BUICK will build them."

NAME CAST FOR SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

More than twenty-five Southern California high schools are preparing to enter the Shakespearean festival to be held in the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles, all day, May 4.

Santa Ana high school with four other high schools will give "Romeo and Juliet" on the evening program, each school giving an act or some part of the complete play.

Under the direction of Miss Minna Mae Lewis, instructor in drama at the high school here, the following cast will be directed in the presentation of the complete second act of the play:

Robert Bradford, Romeo; Alice Richards, Juliet; Teresa Knapp, nurse; Ivan Swanner, Peter; Paul Brown, Mercutio; Jack Langley, Benvolio; and Edwin Cochems, who will give the prologue.

To Give Music Program. In addition to the prominent part given to Santa Ana on the evening program of what is recognized to be one of the leading dramatic events of the school year for all the South, the local high school, under the direction of Miss Margaret Wickes, head of the music department, has been asked to provide the afternoon musical program.

The boys' quartette from the Santa Ana high school will give a group of numbers. The members of the quartette are Jack Langley, Paul Brown, Leon Gardner and Carl Opp. Carl Opp and Robert Bradford will give vocal solos during the afternoon.

At Miss Wickes's invitation the Orange high school orchestra will give the orchestra music for the afternoon program.

To Spend Day. The cast for the second act of "Romeo and Juliet" and probably a delegation from the local school's English department will plan to spend the entire day at the festival and it is expected that in addition to the students and teachers many other Santa Anans will attend the evening session.

This contest is an annual affair and Los Angeles city schools will be dismissed for the day to allow all students who may so desire, to attend the festival.

At Berkeley, May 25, will be held the annual state Shakespearean contest.

It has been the custom in previous years to have the local school represented in this contest and more than usual interest surrounds the affair this year because of the keen appreciation of the students due to the development of the annual Los Angeles Shakespearean festival.

To Select Contestant. The Santa Ana contestant for the Berkeley event will be chosen in the near future and trained in the drama department by Miss Lewis.

This annual Berkeley contest is always held in the Greek theater and attracts representatives from all parts of the state.

COLLECT BARBED WIRE. PARIS, April 28.—In the department of the Somme 65,000 tons of barbed wire, used during the war, has been collected and will be sent to factories to be melted down.

BEACH, S. A. OFFICES OF SLEUTH TO MERGE

The Santa Ana and Long Beach offices of the Nick Harris detective agency are to be consolidated May 1, with the general office to be located at Long Beach, according to an announcement made by F. G. Yoder, agent here.

According to Yoder, who will be in charge of Long Beach and Orange county territory, this plan should prove of decided benefit to the organization is concerned. "This does not mean that our operatives are leaving Santa Ana and the vicinity," Yoder said. "We are simply moving the records and concentrating information in one spot where better facilities for service are available."

$3000 IS PAID IN DAY NURSERY DEAL

The new Day nursery at 610 Garfield street is no longer a dream but a reality.

At 10 a. m. today Mrs. John Clarkson, president of the Ebell club, received from J. C. Hayden, president of the Rotary club, a check for $3000 which made possible the closing of the transaction which makes the new Day nursery the property of the Ebell.

The men have shown the greatest courtesy and generosity in this matter and our taking over of the new Day nursery would not have been possible at this time without their generous assistance," said Mrs. Clarkson.

The Rotary club's contribution plus the funds already procured by the Day Nursery committee of the Ebell make possible within a very few days the move from the present Day nursery on Fifth street to the new home.

"We expect to take possession of the property May 1," said Mrs. Clarkson, "and will proceed at once to get the home in readiness for occupation soon as possible." Mrs. Clarkson pointed out that there would be much more play space for the children, plenty of room for enclosed porch room for the small children and also a garage building which will probably be used for an old clothes headquarters.

HUNDREDS OF ANGLERS TO TRY LUCK TUESDAY AS TROUT SEASON ON

Hundreds of Orange county fishermen will be on streams of Southern California Tuesday morning before daybreak prepared for the first time this season to take a try at trout, according to sports goods dealers of this city. The season opens an hour before sunrise.

Orange county streams have not been stocked since 1917 until this season and will not offer a great deal of sport, it is said.

In the opinion of sportsmen, most of the activity of county men will be at Big Bear lake, Arrowhead lake and streams of San Bernardino mountains.

Reports from Ventura county indicate that rivers and creeks of that county will offer good sport for anglers.

It was pointed out that ten pounds and one fish is the trout limit. Predictions were made that at good fishing points limits would be caught quickly.

LAWYERS READY TO FIGHT FOR THIRD JUDGE

Appointed by the Orange County Bar association to go to Sacramento, if necessary, to fight for Senate Bill No. 3, providing for an additional superior court judge for Orange county, District Attorney A. P. Nelson and Attorney Clyde Bishop today were awaiting developments at the state legislature to determine whether it will be necessary for them to go to the state capital.

Making investigations as to the status of the bill, Bishop said today that he had learned that it had been reported out of the judiciary committee and was now in the hands of the committee on ways and means. He said it was possible it would be reported out today by the latter committee.

"It is possible floor action on the bill will not come until after the budget question is settled," said Bishop. "When the measure comes up, we will go to Sacramento if it should develop that the bill is liable to meet with serious opposition."

HIS SOUL GOES MARCHING ON

In another place on this page appears an article outlining the plans of the Roosevelt Memorial Association for awarding medals for distinguished public service, and inviting suggestions in regard thereto from the American people.

It will probably be unanimously conceded that no man of our time has rendered more conspicuous public service than the late Col. Roosevelt, or exerted more influence for good upon the people of this country.

It is fitting, therefore, that his distinguished public service be exalted and his influence for good be continued and perpetuated to the greatest possible extent.

In large measure the plans of the Roosevelt Memorial Association for the awarding annually of a medal for the highest order of public service will not only honor the memory of one of the greatest Americans, but will keep alive and shining brightly the ideals to which he so strenuously and successfully devoted his life.

WATCH THE LEMON IMPORTERS

If the fate of the thousands of lemon groves in California were left in the hands of the citrus fruit importers of New York city, the lemon groves wouldn't be worth as much as bare ground, for the trees would be an incubator.

If the lemon importers had their way about it, there would be no tariff on lemons; all the lemons used in the United States would be brought over in cargo bulk from the Mediterranean.

These dealers were fought during the tariff battles before the congress which ended its sessions in March. They were whipped on facts and figures, with the result that the lemon industry of this state was saved. The tariff placed on lemons at that time was none too high. In fact, according to the view expressed by E. B. Collier, who is manager of the Central Lemon Growers' association, at Villa Park, in this county, there should be a revision upward. Collier points out that a tremendous crop of lemons is coming on, large enough to supply the entire needs of the United States.

In face of this condition, however, it appears that the New York importers have instituted a movement for reducing the tariff. The attack has been kept under cover. Its discovery, however, resulted in immediate action by Congressman Phil D. Swing, representing this district, who led the lemon tariff fight in the House of Representatives. It is now certain that no cut in the tariff will be recommended by the United States tariff commission without the lemon growers of California having an opportunity to combat the proposal.

The value of organization of growers has been proven in innumerable ways time and again. If it were not for the organization of the citrus men in the California Fruit Growers' exchange and the Citrus Protective league, the importers might easily ruin the lemon industry of this state. As it is, they can't do it. They will be met at every turn.

HOME TRAINING FOR YOUTH

As a fitting sequel to the talk of O. M. Robbins, quoted on this page a few days ago, comes an expression of the views of Judge C. E. McLaughlin, one of the "grand old men" of Sacramento, on the boys and girls problem. Judge McLaughlin is greatly honored in the community he has served long and well, and is a member of the Rotary there.

Speaking to that organization the other day, he urged a larger consideration of the boy and girl problem, and a more definite application to home training on the part of parents. The importance of the problem was stressed by the speaker, who argued that the children of each age tell the story of tomorrow and this generation should profit by the mistakes of the hour and rectify them for the sake of the next day.

He drew attention to the substitution of women for men in clerical work and the consequent loss of interest in the home on the part of the women. The business man, he argued, is not free from criticism, because he devotes little time to his family and to his duties and responsibilities towards the home, forgetting that the wealth thus accumulated would be but dead sea ashes if his children proved a disappointment or disgrace.

Home discipline is being relaxed, the slightest wishes of children are being gratified, boys and girls are not being taught self reliance and self-restraint and the greatest asset of the nation, the children, are not being properly trained for the duties of life and citizenship. It is true that undue repression is as harmful as undue license, but the moral virtues should be taught, not by vicious moving pictures, which depict the latest methods of committing crime; nor by sensational sermons depicting the career of a criminal in vivid and realistic terms, but by preaching the simple truths of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

"When you exhaust the gospels, cease preaching," was the terse advice given.

As to education, he argued for the establishment of more trade schools, more encouragement to keep to the free and independent life of the farm, and more simplicity in the daily life.

BUYING ONE CHAIR

A writer in one of the home beautifying magazines tells how much better and less expensive it is to furnish a home a little at a time than with "sets" of furniture. The woman who bought everything she thought she needed, but of cheap or mediocre quality, intending to refurnish entire in five years, found that when the five years were up the money was not forthcoming. Everything had become shabby at once, and as a matter of fact she had never really enjoyed any of her things.

She had to begin at that late date buying one thing at a time, and living with the mess made by the mixture of old and new, good and bad, during the long period while she refurnished bit by bit. Meanwhile the woman who was brave enough to start by spending most of her living-room money on two good chairs, and getting only one extremely good thing at a time, found herself at the end of the five years with a beautiful and well-furnished house.

This slow-but-sure method is commended to this year's crop of brides and bridegrooms. It may take quite a little courage to put nine-tenths of the living and dining-room money into two good chairs and a good buffet, using the other tenth for a gay painted breakfast set and a few fibre living-room accessories, when one's friends seem to have so much more. But by buying one good thing a year, the house never stands still. It is always clothing itself with beauty. It is a habitation of progressive interest to oneself and friends. And it never falls into that drab shabbiness so common where everything came in at once and never could be renewed.

Gardens, wardrobes and even business offices may profit by observing the same general rule. The courage and perseverance of establishing a high ideal and working towards it, through self-denial, patience and refusal of the inferior, is just about as usefully productive as to the character as it is to the environment.

Now the question is, will Henry give a flivver with every ballot or a ballot with every flivver?

Marine Life of the Pacific

San Francisco Chronicle.
One of the most important and least understood questions of the day is in respect to the preservation of the marine life of the Pacific. The main features of the subject were presented in a most interesting manner at the dinner of the Commonwealth Club on last Thursday night, from the scientific side by some of the greatest living authorities and from the practical side by some of our largest packers of sea products, and representatives of regulating bodies.

Various sea animals once of great importance on our coast are extinct. The Alaska fur seals are for the present protected only by agreement between four powers to abolish pelagic hunting by their subjects, which is lawful for the citizens of all other powers. And what is of most importance is that our great salmon packing industry is in danger. That can be saved only by agreement between our own and the Canadian government, which will probably be made, although this far agreement has been impossible. Predatory fishermen have been too strong.

We do not now generally realize the importance of marine life, because with our present population we can live well on the products of the land. As population grows dense the struggle for food, and especially cheap food, will grow serious. And all sea products are produced up to the time of harvest, without care of human labor or forethought for feeding and with no expense for fertilization. How ignorant we are of what deeply concerns us was shown by the fact that of the nearly 3500 members of the Commonwealth Club apparently less than 100 took the trouble to go and hear one of the most informative and practical discussions of the day. And that is assumed to be a "high-brow" club.

The members of the club present adopted a strong resolution, urging our Government to lead in an international association of Pacific countries for the preservation of the marine life of that ocean. And the entire Pacific Coast should get behind it.

Back to Boyhood Days

San Bernardino Sun.
In the house where he was born, President Harding hopes to spend his declining days. He has purchased the old farm in Morrow County, Ohio. The ambition to return to the home of his childhood was common to the Nineteenth century middle westerner. So many hardships and chores harassed the soul of the boy of the farm, that he was prone to conjure up day-dreams of boyhood scenes transformed into Elysium. What normal boy, bitterly chopping the kindling, disconsolately milking the cow, or interminably picking potato bugs, could refrain from picturing to himself the millennial happiness of lying in bed till noon, or fishing or swimming till sundown, and of swinging on the barnyard fence to his heart's content?

To few have these boyhood dreams remained clear in later life. Mr. Harding seems to be one of the rare ones who may gratify his early ambitions. He is going back to establish a nine-hole golf course where he used to hoe corn. He will be able to turn on the steam heat when he used to shiver in the cold of the winter mornings. A touch of the faucet will bring water where once long grinds at the pump-handle made life tough.

The Twentieth century boy, product of the two-family flat or the semi-bungalow, and victim of the frequent changes of residence which mounting rents the ambition to return in triumphant later life to his boyhood scene.

Mr. Harding will be envied. Even if he does not make the course in par, he will probably find the driver, the mashie and the putter much greater incentives to progress over the old corn-field than the hoe used to be.

Better Immigrants

El Centro Press.
The immigration quota law is beginning to show some of the good results predicted when it was framed. The commissioner of immigration reports now coming to America a preponderance of Anglo-Saxon and Scandinavian people is noticeable, while the hordes from Mediterranean countries who presented our greatest alien problem have been checked.

An interesting bit of evidence along this line is seen in the recent arrival of 100 Scandinavian farmers with their wives and children, bound for the credit totaling more than $1,000,000. It always takes time for the benefits of any change of policy to show. The difficulties of adjustment are so much more evident. This was true of the immigration law. But now it is fairly evident that limiting quantity and stressing quality has paid.

As business gets better and there is need for more workers, especially for unskilled labor, it may be necessary to lighten restrictions to some degree, but even then the question of desirability and the problem of assimilation should not be forgotten.

Mexican Farm Lands

Pasadena Star-News.
Announcement of significance comes from Mexico, to the effect that the federal government down there is encouraging the subdivision of great estates among small farmers. This has been a crying need, below the Rio Grande, for time immemorial. President Obregon is instituting this progressive reform.

The great Terrazas estate of nearly 8,000,000 acres, in the state of Chihuahua—a veritable empire in itself—has been expropriated by the Mexican national government. The record owners will be paid $5,500,000 by the Mexican government. The vast holdings will be opened to colonization by farmers on small allotments of the land.

This should make for permanent peace, prosperity and contentment in Mexico. Intensive farming by small farmers, who would be given ownership of their little tracts, would usher in a new era in the economic life of Mexico. There would be gratification on this side of the border to witness this evolution in the sister republic.

Worth While Verse

DESERT SAGE
My feet are treading the city streets,
But my heart is far astray,
Over the distant desert hills
Where the sage grows cool and grey.
Where the scent of the sage is keen and sweet
That flies on the wind away.

I hear the noise of the busy town
And the crowds that pass me by;
But my thoughts are away to the distant hills
As wild birds homeward fly.
I am one with the hills and the fragrant sage,
The wind, and the autumn sky.

And ever the western winds do blow,
From the Land of Yesterday,
Where the silvery plumes of desert sage
Fragrantly bend and sway;
(Oh, my feet are treading the city streets—
But my heart is far away!)

HOUSE DIVIDED.
Some years ago there were in Paris two papers, the Razor and the Scorpion, which were always attacking each other.

Every week people bought the Razor to read how it cut at the Scorpion, and then purchased the Scorpion to learn how it stung the Razor.

A certain philanthropist, feeling pained to see such animosity displayed, invited the two editors to dine, in the hope that over good fare he could make peace between them. At the appointed time one lean, melancholy man presented himself and was ushered in. After an interval, as no other guest appeared, the host demanded:

"May I ask, are you the editor of the Razor or the Scorpion?"

"Both," said the sad-eyed man.—Sheffield (Eng.) Telegraph.

Medals for Public Service
Roosevelt Memorial Association

William Loeb, Jr., former secretary to President Roosevelt, and now acting president of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, recently announced that the association will shortly present the first of the gold medals to be awarded annually for distinguished public service in those fields of activity that were closest to Col. Roosevelt's heart, thereby exalting civic righteousness and perpetuating the principles for which Roosevelt stood.

The medals will be three and one-half inches in diameter and will bear on one side a profile of Theodore Roosevelt and, on the other, a flaming sword with the inscription: "If I must choose between righteousness and peace, I choose righteousness." The designer of the medal is James Earle Fraser, whose statue of Alexander Hamilton for the Treasury Department in Washington is shortly to be unveiled and whose bust of Roosevelt in the capitol building, just outside the Senate Chamber is well known.

The Roosevelt Medal for Distinguished Public Service will be awarded every year for the greatest service to the American people in three out of the following seven fields: (1) Administration of public office. (2) Development of public and international law. (3) Promotion of industrial peace. (4) Conservation of natural resources. (5) Promotion of the welfare of women and children. (6) The study of natural history and the promotion of outdoor life. (7) Development in the American character of those qualities of courage, foresight, initiative and patriotism associated with Roosevelt's name.

"This list is not necessarily final," said Mr. Loeb, in making the announcement. "It is, as the lawyers say, subject to advice of counsel. The counsel in this case being the great American public. The trustees hope that the admirers of Mr. Roosevelt throughout the country will feel impelled to make suggestions and that the editors of newspapers will interpret to the trustees what they believe is the judgment of Mr. Roosevelt's fellow-citizens, first, in regard to the domains in which the medals should be awarded; and second, in regard to the men and women who should receive the honors this year."

The following committee has been appointed by Mr. Loeb to consider suggestions presented by the public and to designate the three men or women who have, in its judgment, rendered the greatest public service during the year 1922 in the fields already outlined: John H. Finley, formerly head of the New York State Department of Education and now editor of the New York Times; chairman. Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of Senator McCormick of Illinois; Oscar S. Strauss, secretary of commerce and labor in President Roosevelt's cabinet; Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state; Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture; Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, and Colonel William Boyce Thompson, president of the Roosevelt Memorial Association. It is expected that the first awards will be made late in May.

Optimism Preferred
By Berton Braley
There are times in every species of existence
When the game of life seems scarcely worth the while,
When your hopes and dreams all vanish in the distance
And your luck is unexceptionally vile.
When your labors cannot get you any gains out
Of whatever is the business you essay,
Still, if I were you I wouldn't blow my brains out,
For tomorrow is, you know, another day!

Though you cannot see much prospect of improvement,
Though the sky with heavy clouds is overcast,
Though the stocks that you have purchased show a movement which is downward, and they're dropping very fast;
Though when you would gather hay it always rains out,
And it's sunny when for rainy days you pray;
Still, if I were you I wouldn't blow my brains out,
For tomorrow is, you know, another day!
